Trustees locked out of township hall

Vote unanimously for personal keys

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

Up to 25 people stood outside the Antioch Township Hall waiting to hear an informational meeting by a state official, but nobody could enter the building.

Why?

The building was locked, and the building's sole key holder, Supervisor Jim Fields, was on vacation and unavailable to open the building for the regularly scheduled township board meeting.

After shivering in the cold for about 20 minutes, they found their way into the building for the meeting and the presentation by the state official.

In an effort to prevent the same scenario from happening again, trustees unanimously voted to form a new policy which allows all trustees to have copies of the township hall key.

"Tonight is a perfect example why trustees should have a key," noted Trustee Claudette Skvarce, who was among those who waited outside the building before it was opened 20 minutes after the 7:30 meeting was to start.

Skvarce has long argued the need for more than one township official to have a township hall key in cases when the supervisor is not available.

"I've always wanted a key, not for personal business or for after-hours business, but, as a trustee, sometimes I'm a half hour early and I have to wait until the door is open," Skvarce said.

Having spare keys also plays well with the new formal open meetings policy Skvarce introduced, drafted and helped pass. Without having a key to open the Township Hall for groups wishing to hold a meeting, the new open meetings policy would essentially be moot.

Trustees unanimously voted for trustees to have a key "for the purpose of opening the door" and "for the purpose of meetings." Fields was on vacation and did not vote.

Township urges hearing on high-density power lines

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

In a last-minute effort, Antioch Township trustees approved a letter encouraging the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to hold a public hearing on the power lines being planned through Antioch Township.

A letter-writing campaign was spearheaded by Citizens Against Unsafe Electricity (CAUSE) in order to urge the Army Corps to hold a public hearing before approving ComEd's permit to construct proposed power lines from Round Lake Beach through Lake Villa to Antioch along the Wisconsin Central Railroad.

Antioch Township trustees were going to try to beat a Feb. 9 deadline for public comment by faxing a letter to the Army Corps that day. The villages of Lake Villa and Lindenhurst had already written to the Army Corps.

"We do feel there is additional information that would warrant a public hearing," said Judy Martini, a county board member who advised the board to draft a letter before the Feb. 9 deadline.

Representatives from CAUSE have argued that the electromagnetic fields the power lines would emit could potentially have health and environmental detriments to the area.

One of the areas the power lines are being proposed is along the western edge of Loon Lake, where residents claim the lines could harm the sensitive wetlands and animal life.

CAUSE has been fighting the power lines since 1991. ComEd has said the power lines are needed to serve the growing electricity demands in northwestern Lake County.

Waterway officials to receive pay

With a tiebreaking vote cast by the chairman, the Fox Waterway Agency board approved to pay directors per meeting, up to $100 a month.

The meeting was held at the Grant Community High School commons.

Executive Director Karen Kabbes explained the Agency received the right to pay its members when Gov. Jim Edgar signed a multi-faceted bill last fall.

The bill also approved the former Fox River Waterway Management Agency to shorten its name. And it means the Agency has the authority to pay for retiring employees' pensions, as well, all stemming from what See WATERWAY page A10

Township OKs moth spray; seeks funding

KEVIN HANRAHAN
Staff Reporter

Antioch Township trustees hope a biological spray will extinguish the potentially destructive Gypsy Moth population that has infested Bluff Lake.

Although the township will allow the state to spray for the moth, trustees want to seek other sources of revenue to help pay for the insecticide and associated costs of renting a helicopter to spray the 12-acre infested site around Bluff Lake.

Cost for the insecticide would be approximately $4,200.

"I would like to pursue other sources of funding," said Trustee Tim Osmond, who voted with the other trustees that the spray is necessary.

Osmond suggested that maybe the Fox Waterway Agency might be a willing party to assist in funding the project since the moth could essentially spread to many other forested areas along the Chain of Lakes.

Other areas infested by the moth include 2 acres in Grant Township, 6 acres in Lake Villa Township as well as isolated areas in Elia Township and parts of Lake Forest.

Stan Smith, field manager for the Illinois Department of Agriculture, stressed that it is essential to eradicate the small infestation of the gypsy moth before their numbers grow and destroy the hardwood areas around Bluff Lake.

"The gypsy moth can totally strip all the leaves off all the trees, and it will feed on just about any species of tree in northern Illinois including spruce and pine," Smith warned. "In time, the trees will not be able to produce any leaves, and the trees weaken and become vulnerable to other insects and diseases."

According to Smith, the gypsy moth will feed on tree leaves while it is a caterpillar before it transforms into a moth. In some areas of the East Coast where the gypsy moth is prevalent, Smith said people can actually hear the millions of caterpillars eating at night.

An official from Lake Forest confirmed the destructive nature of the moth and the safety of the biological chemical used to kill it. Lake Forest has sprayed for the moth in different areas in each of the last three years.

The gypsy moth has spread from the East Coast to Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan via human travel. Virtually 95 percent of Michigan is infested with the moth, and Wisconsin plans on spraying nearly 50,000 acres in the Door County region this year.

"People bring them by moving here or vacationing from an infested area," Smith said. "Anything that is outdoors is capable of having a gypsy moth egg mass."

He noted that Lake County is especially sensitive to the gypsy moth because many people travel out of state for vacation, and the county has many heavily wooded areas. "Lake County is a high-risk county," Smith said.

But he said the state has been successful in killing the moth in more than 65 different sprays over the last 20 years.

"We've been successful in all of them, so far," Smith said.

The problem is that the state is unlikely to assist Antioch Township in paying for the spray.

"At this point in time, I can't offer any funds," Smith said.

Township adopts meetings policy

KEVIN HANRAHAN
Staff Reporter

Antioch Township trustees adopted a formal policy to allow groups to hold their meetings at the Township Hall Community Room.

In the past, groups were able to schedule meetings informally through Township Supervisor Jim Fields, who personally opened the township hall.

But last November, the Alliance for Better Government was denied access to the township hall for an informational meeting because Fields was on vacation and did not make a key available.

For the past three months, Trustee Claudette Skvarce had been seeking input from other townships to develop an open meetings policy for Antioch Township.

After some revisions, township trustees approved of the new policy. Fields did not vote as he was on vacation.

Trustee Tim Osmond pointed out that the new policy and application form is open to all not-for-profit groups and government agencies. "It's not limited to just Antioch Township groups," Osmond said.

The application form will require the name of the organization, the name of an official representative, a telephone number, and date and time requested to use the community room.

The new policy also requires a 10-day notice, and prohibits smoking, alcoholic beverages, and cooking.

"That does not mean people can't bring food," Osmond pointed out.

The community room must be cleaned and returned to its original order. Organizations will be required to pay $10 an hour for a minimum of two hours to have the room cleaned.

"If it is left unsightly, they're going to have to pay for a custodial fee or they're going to have to clean it themselves," Skvarce said.

The township also reserves the right to make additional reasonable rules and regulations as deemed necessary.

Moth killer deemed safe for humans and animals

KEVIN HANRAHAN
Staff Reporter

A state official relieved Bluff Lake residents concerns that a special insecticide used to kill the tree-destroying Gypsy Moth is safe upon human contact.

Approximately 12 acres around Bluff Lake have been found to be infested with the gypsy moth, which feeds on tree leaves while in the caterpillar stage of development. If left untreated, the moths could kill the trees over time.

Stan Smith, a field manager with the Illinois Department of Agriculture, said the state uses a biological insecticide to eradicate the moth.

"It won't bother humans, kids, birds or animals, and you can spray it over water," Smith assured residents who live near Bluff Lake. He did note that people with asthma might want to check with their doctors.

The natural-occurring bacteria (Bacillus thuringiensis) is found in soil. "You can dig up the bacteria while gardening," Smith pointed out.

He also noted that the bacteria only kills leaf-eating caterpillars. The bacteria affects the caterpillar's digestive system.

The spray is dropped over the infested area via a helicopter, and the caterpillar then feeds on the treated leaves.

Smith also assured residents that the insecticide is specific for the gypsy moth and will not affect caterpillars that develop into popular butterflies or endangered butterflies.

"We haven't found any endangered species, and we don't expect to find any in this area," Smith said.

As a further safeguard, he noted that the spray is registered and deemed safe by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency.

Some residents raised concerns about allowing the Clark Outdoor Spray Company spray the insecticide. Clark is likely the company to lease the helicopter to spray the area.

Smith assured residents that there will be state officials on

Swap land to simplify routes

KEVIN HANRAHAN
Staff Reporter

The Antioch Community High School Board of Education was expected to approve a land swap deal with Grayslake and Grant high schools during its board meeting this week.

Antioch Business Manager Bill Ahlers said the three-school agreement aims to simplify district boundaries between the three high schools and to clarify matters for prospective homebuyers entering three new housing subdivisions being built in Lake Villa Township.

The three subdivisions include Pineview, Savanna Springs and Windance in southern Lake Villa. All three subdivisions fall within the Lake Villa Elementary District 41 boundaries.

Land swaps between school districts are unusual as school districts try to maintain their taxing ability on new homes.

But Ahlers said this situation was unique in that none of the districts were losing or gaining much over the other. The homes for each of the subdivisions generally fall in the $150,000 to $185,000 range.

Essentially, Savanna Springs fell within all three high school districts. As proposed, it would all fall under Grayslake High School. In addition, ACHS gave up its portion of the Windance subdivision which will now be split by Grayslake and Grant high schools.

In return, ACHS would receive all of the Pineview subdivision which was originally split between ACHS on the north and GCHS on the south.

Ahlers said this move was proposed to simplify bus routes. He noted that GCHS buses could only access Pineview on McKinley Road which is only accessible by entering Pineview through the ACHS district.

ACHS would be receiving about 90 new homes from the Pineview subdivision while it lost approximately 88 homes to GCHS in the Windance and Savanna Springs subdivisions.

The land swap would be final pending a vote by the ACHS board Thursday night. The GCHS board already approved the plan.

ACHS prepares grad for MIT demands

KEVIN HANRAHAN
Staff Reporter

Both high school students and college students have demonstrated that a lot can be created from a little box of junk.

After following the successes of the Antioch Community High School "Sequoit Scorpion Team," Lakeland Newspapers learned an ACHS grad has gained similar success while attending the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Church hosts Parents Day Out

Parents Day Out, subsidiary of United Methodist Church of Antioch, provides parents with the opportunity to leave their children in a caring, educational environment while they run errands, go to doctors appointments, or just to take some time away from the children. All children ages 6 months to 5 years are welcome, and the fee is $10 per session, with sessions running from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m. Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday. Children bring a lunch, although snacks are provided. For more information, call 395-1362.

Kristin Pierson, a 1993 graduate of ACHS and the first grad to attend the renown MIT campus outside of Boston, earned a trip to Cambridge, England, last summer after assembling a robot from a box of parts.

The mechanical engineering major who is also in the pre-med program gained second place in an MIT competition in which she had to design and construct a robot essentially from a box of junk.

"They give you a box of junk, and you have to turn it into a robot," Pierson said. Her robot also had to pick up ping-pong balls and place them in a goal.

Pierson's second-place finish earned her a trip to Cambridge to compete in a similar competition, but of international scope.

While teamed up with students from Korea and Brazil, Pierson and her three-person team competed against 10 other three-person teams made up of college students from around the world.

"It was more of a fun competition, and it was neat to learn the different ways people from different countries do things and think," Pierson noted. "The Germans were definitely the perfectionists."

Back on the homefront, the Sequoit Scorpion Team won second-place in the Chicago "Boosting Engineering Science and Technology" (BEST) competition and eighth in the national competition held at Texas A&M University.

Pierson also heard about the accolades of Team Scorpion and complimented them on their achievements.

"It is basically the same thing I did," Pierson said. "It will definitely help them if they pursue engineering in college."

The former ACHS cheerleader has continued her academic drive at prestigious MIT, where some of the country's best young minds have congregated for college.

Pierson was inducted into various honors societies including Tau Beta Pi which is the National Engineering Honors Society and Pi Tau Sigma which is the MIT mechanical engineering honors society. She also works part time in a bio-medical laboratory at Beth Israel Hospital.

She credited strong programs in Calculus, Honors Physics and Advanced Placement Biology at ACHS for preparing her for the tough study demands at MIT.

"Take your high school classes seriously," Pierson advised future college students. "It's important to learn good study habits while you're in high school."

Grayslake house uninhabitable

ELIZABETH EAKEN

Staff Reporter

The living conditions in a house at 261 Bonnie Brae in Grayslake were so horrible it was condemned after a worker from the public works department notified the police department and the building department of unsafe living conditions in the home.

The home was labeled as a health hazard according to a police report.

Grayslake Administrative Sergeant Matt McCutcheon said according to the public works department employee and officer that served the notice, conditions were "unbelievable."

"The home has been cited in the last four months for violation of the village animal ordinance," said McCutcheon. "They had six dogs and were cited for not having tags. We went there in response to neighbor complaints about the animals running all over."

According to the police report the Department of Children and Family Services was notified of the conditions but no further information was available.

Grayslake building Commissioner Kevin McCrory declined to reveal details on the case but said the conditions were uninhabitable and the owner was notified. "She knows what has to be done," he said of the clean-up needed.

How to Preserve your Assets from the Federal Government and the Medicaid Gang!

Antioch, IL. Many retirees face a 100% chance of financial ruin. How? They must bear the cost of long-term nursing and home-health care if they, or a loved one, require such care.

Give Up Your Assets

The government can, and will, force you to use your CDs, home, social security, pension checks, investments, IRAs and just about everything else of value to pay for long-term care.

The Greatest Myth

The greatest myth is that Medicare will pay for "all" long-term care costs. This is absolutely WRONG. Medicare is a health insurance program with limited benefits for long-term care.

Another Myth

The other myth is that Medicaid will pay for long-term care. This is true, but not until you have exhausted nearly ALL of your own assets to pay for such care.

Medicaid steps in only after you are basically "BROKE."

$30,000 Per Year

The national average cost for long-term nursing care is $30,000 per year. How long will your assets last at that rate? Nobody wants to see their life savings evaporate before their eyes, but it is happening every-day.

Another reunion

Well, once again the Schreiber family found itself participating in yet another family reunion. This family has more reunions than it has members. Twelve families, representing four generations, met up at the Copa Cabana Suites and Resort in the Wisconsin Dells for four days of festivities.

We swam a little, shopped a little, and lounged a little. We socialized a lot, ate a ton, and gambled away the majority of the weekend. One cousin even lost her shirt at the casino, literally. She entered the establishment with the intention of using her winnings to buy a nice shirt she had seen in the hotel gift shop.

Unfortunately, she ended up plunking every bit of her earnings back into the one armed bandit, thereby literally losing "shirt." Some of us won a little, some of us won a lot, but most of the members lost their daily allotments, quickly. Me, my sister and sister-in-law always play the slot machines as a team, that way your money lasts a little longer.

Upon arriving at the casino we scooped out the perfect machine. Seeing as I brought a baggy of quarters, I guarded the machine while Cindy and Karen went off to get change. I got so caught up in the bells and whistles going off around me, I simply pulled out three quarters and put them in the selected machine. I won $45.

I figured Karen and Cindy were going to be mad so I tried stashing the quarters on myself. There was a slight problem—I had no pockets or purse. So there I was trying to stuff 180 quarters into my slouch socks. Needless to say, I got caught and neither appreciated my indulgence. They insisted we move to another machine, which did prove to be prosperous.

It doesn't take much to get us going and at one point we were carrying on so bad, whooping and hollering, the security people came over thinking we won big time, when in actuality we only won 80 quarters—which only figures out to be a lousy $20! Split between the three of us, we walked away with about enough money to buy a Value Meal at McDonald's.

Everyone around us seemed to get caught up in our enthusiasm—except for one serious gambler next to us who angrily gathered up her Ho Chunks bucket of coins and stormed off, elbowing my sister as she passed; some people need to lighten up. Casinos have the distinct atmosphere which makes people look and act pathetic.

After losing his rather large daily allotment, one cousin took to walking around searching the floor and vacant slot machines for wayward quarters. He kept circling me like a beaten dog, until I finally threw him three quarters. This 6-foot, 4-inch man began jumping like a leprechaun. He wandered around feeling the vibes of each machine until he was sure he found a winner.

He slowly put in his three quarters, made some superstition gestures, grabbed the arm, and gently pulled. Round and round the dials went for what seemed to be an eternity, finally one stopped, then the second and finally the third. No lights, no bells, no payout—he felt defeated, dejected and depressed. I believe they have meeting for these kind of folks.

He felt a bit consoled as he watched the faces of all the other patrons exiting the casino—they all seemed to feel pretty much the same way; except his sister who walked away with a $500 jackpot in her purse. I am sure a few of you have been lucky enough to walk away from a gambling establishment with a large donation for your savings account.

Some of you have probably had the chance to exit with your integrity in tact and your financial status unaltered. But the fact still remains that the majority of people come away with a big, maybe even gaping hole in their financial status. These establishments make it entirely too easy to lose your life savings with their conveniently placed ATM machines and VISA accepting cashiers.

I, myself have very little self-control at these gaming joints, so I bring nothing but my allotted quarters and my driver's license—for identification when I hit the Big Kahuna. As we sit at those machines, plunking in our money, pulling down the lever, watching the wheels go round and round, I'm sure we all have that one thought running through our heads: "If I hit the big jackpot, how can I get out of town without the kinkfolk knowing?" And so goes another "Jingle from Pringle"—don't forget to call 395-6364.

looking to break even

Playing well in several facets, Antioch High's boys basketball team earned itself a chance at a .500 conference and overall record heading into the final week of the regular season.

North Chicago was the victim in a 47-41 Antioch win Friday. The win improves the Sequoits to 5-7 North Suburban Conference, 11-12 overall.

"It was a good effort — we did what we wanted to do. We wanted to take away their inside game and we kept our poise," Antioch Coach Jeff Dresser said.

The Sequoits were 14-of-21 in free-throw shooting, 6-of-8 in the final quarter.

Justin McRae had three and Kevin Geraghty two. AHS dominated the fourth period 13-5.

Geraghty led the perimeter attack with 15 points as he topped his team-leading team average. He had three three-point field goals.

"He got his points from all over, but he did not force anything," Dresser said. "We ran our offense well — Kevin Eckenstahler (also with 15 points) got us going early."

The Sequoits halved the number of offensive rebounds they allowed the Warhawks as opposed to the first round game.

Geraghty comes into the final week when Antioch hosts Zion-Benton Feb. 16 and is at Warren Feb. 20 as the leading scorer.

Geraghty is averaging 13.5 points a game from his senior guard spot. Eckenstahler is next at 9.9 points and is the leading rebounder at 6.6.

McRae is the third top scorer at 9.2 and he matched his season average against the Warhawks.

Antioch youth basketball makes clean sweep

The Antioch Jr. Sequoits youth basketball program made a clean sweep of the Vernon Travelers Feb. 11 at Antioch. The sixth graders stopped Vernon 31-24. The seventh graders edged Vernon 54-52, and the eighth grade won easily 53-37.

On Feb. 17, Antioch travels to Vernon Hills for three games beginning at 2:30 p.m. with the sixth graders. On Sunday, Antioch will host Warren with the sixth grade game starting at 1 p.m.

The Antioch sixth graders traveled to Libertyville and lost their first game of the year—34-24. The contest was close throughout with Libertyville holding an 18-15 half-time advantage. Libertyville, aided by several Antioch turnovers, pulled away in the third quarter and never looked back. The Jr. Sequoits were led in scoring by Chris Kocinski with nine points, Kevin Pendergast with five and Josh Bonner, four points.

Antioch stopped the Vernon Hills Vipers 31-24 behind eight points by Brian Walsh. Following a slow first half of play, Antioch turned up the defensive pressure in the third quarter and built a 23-10 lead. Vernon Hills stormed back in the fourth and cut the lead to four, but Antioch hit six of 10 free throws down the stretch to seal the win. Bonner added seven points and Kocinski had five. Solid defensive games were turned in by Joe Finkleberg and Justin Mehaffey.

The seventh graders split a pair of two-point games. Feb. 10 at Palatine, Eric White scored 23 points—18 in the second half, but it wasn't enough as Palatine won their 21st game 64-62 in a game that wasn't determined until the final seconds. Antioch led after half of play and the lead changed hands nine times in the second half. Ari Brown added 12 points and center Scott Hodina scored 11 for Antioch. Forward Brad Cromeans played well offensively, scoring six and grabbing seven rebounds. Guards Justin Kent, Eric Langner and forward Rob Lodesky combined for 10 steals and great defensive games.

Feb. 11 at Antioch High School, White scored 16, Brown added 13 and guard Mark Purnell scored eight as the Jr. Sequoits stopped Vernon 54-52. Antioch led throughout most of the game and had the rebounding edge 28-23 thanks to great defensive games by Brandon White, Hodina, Kent and Purnell. Brandon White also scored five points.

The eighth graders upped their record to 4-0 with a pair of wins last week over Libertyville 53-43, and Vernon Hills 53-37. In the Libertyville game, the team used outstanding defense to win their third straight. See SWEEP page A12

Warren seniors go out on high note

Devils capture NSC win to honor the graduating players

The Warren Blue Devils girls basketball team clinched a tie for second in the North Suburban Conference with a 44-33 win over the Antioch Sequoits. WHS raised its record to 19-7.

It was Senior Night at WHS, and the seniors stepped up to lead the Blue Devils in the hard-fought victory.

In the last regular-season game of their high school careers, Warren's Julie Minuskin and Tracy Fiedler gave the home crowd what it came for. Muskin led the WHS scoring with 15 points, including three treys, while Fiedler grabbed six rebounds and added 12 points, including eight in the second quarter that accounted for all of the Warren scoring.

Antioch, however, had some fine performances of its own, and stayed close until the latter half of the fourth quarter. The play at both ends of the floor of the Ipsen sisters, Mary and Lisa, kept the Sequoits close. Lisa, along with Erin O'Connell, led the Sequoits with eight points each, while Mary added six points, four rebounds and tenacious defense.

"Antioch always plays us tough, I don't care what year it is. Fortunately we hung in there," said Warren Coach Bruce Campbell. "I think the crucial thing is you have to be patient on your offense and you can't throw up a lot of bad shots."

Antioch led by as much as four points in the third quarter, but with the Sequoits up 22-18, a Minuskin trey cut the lead to one and sapped some of Antioch's momentum.

"I've said if we protect the ball, if we execute, we can play with a lot of teams. If we don't protect the ball, if we don't use good shot selection, it's going to hurt us and I think that's what happened tonight," said AHS Coach Dave Woods. "When we were able to control the tempo and get the shots we wanted in a half-court game we were fine."

Warren then took the lead on a Fiedler field goal and never lost it. Liberal substitutions throughout the game and bench depth gave the Blue Devils the fresher legs in the fourth quarter.

"We've been playing nine or ten girls every game, and in a game like this where it's very hot in the gym, I think it helped us in the fourth quarter," said Campbell. "We were able to play better defense and apply more pressure."

Freshmen Tiffany Kelver and Becky Moo also provided big boosts to the Blue Devil effort. Kelver scored eight points and played smothering defense throughout the contest, while Moo's six fourth-quarter points gave Warren a more comfortable point cushion.

Woods also gave credit to junior Carrie Gofron, whose hustle and ball-handling skills kept AHS in the game.

"I have a lot of respect for these girls," said AHS coach Dave Woods. "They put their heart on the floor. The effort was good, but it's disappointing because I thought we could have executed better."

Antioch grad 2nd in indoor meet

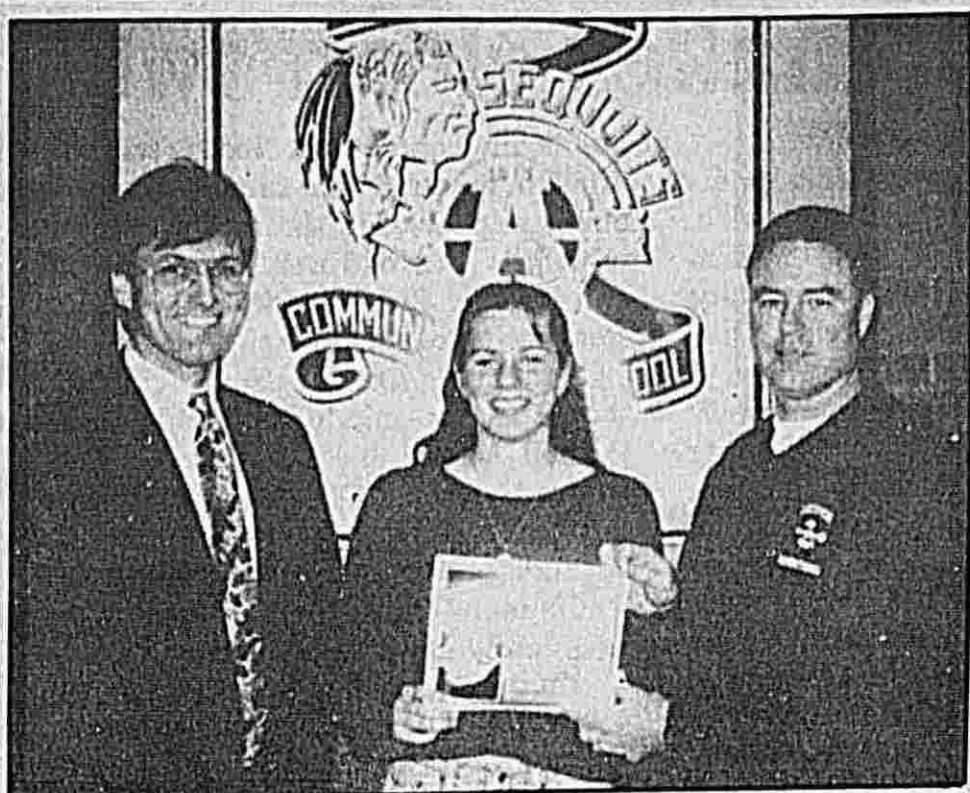

The second indoor track meet of the season for the Augustana College women's track and field team turned out to be a good one as two Vikings met the qualifying standard for the NCAA Division III indoor national championship, which will be held at Smith College in Northampton, Mass. on March 8-9.

The Vikings collared three second place finishes including freshman Chrissy Hammer of Antioch, who went 1:07.08 in the 400.

In the 55 meter dash, Augustana had three finalists as freshman Kristin Haglund was third in :07.94; junior Stephanie Esparza took fourth in :07.99 and sophomore Felicia Carrell finished fifth in :08.01. Haglund then came back and placed fifth in the 200 in :29.23. Sophomore Stacey Green was third in the 500 in 5:04.04 and fifth in the 3000 in 11:19.65. Sophomore Shannon Moore finished fifth in the 1000 in 3:14.69; freshman Michelle Duder was third in the 600 in 1:43.52; and junior Kristin Wisniewski, of Wauconda, ran :32.66 to grab fourth in the 200 hurdles.

12 area grapplers vie for state titles

Round Lake's Amador Estrada and Warren's Mike Ray are both going after a comparative rarity in IHSA Class AA wrestling — an undefeated season, complete with championship trophy.

Other contenders, however, need not lose heart. In the entire history of IHSA only a handful of grapplers have ever had an undefeated season. Everyone has his eyes on the top prize as the best wrestlers in Illinois converge on Champaign's Assembly Hall for the IHSA state wrestling finals.

In addition to Ray, a feisty 103-pounder, and Ray, a rock-solid 140 pounder, other area qualifiers include:

112 — Adam Lipitz, Stevenson.

119 — Matt Hlinak, Antioch.

125 — Dan Cysewski, Libertyville; Luke Dyer, Antioch; Sebastian Sanchez, Stevenson.

130 — Wally Reyes, Grant; Tony Heft, Richmond-Burton.

145 — Anthony Pasquasi, Richmond-Burton.

152 — Jason Breen, Antioch.

189 — Brian Laughlin, Libertyville.

The state meet gets underway Friday at Assembly Hall, with the final rounds taking place on Saturday. For more information about the tournament, call the IHSA at (309) 663-6377.

Warren girls clear hurdle, reach regional final

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

When Nicki Wessel first reported for duty for the Warren High girls basketball team, there was a get-acquainted period.

For the junior is one of only three Woodland Middle School graduates on a team dominated by players who got their start at Viking Junior High. "Nobody from my eighth grade team is on the team now. Getting to know them and bringing the two schools together really helps and it is a lot of fun," Wessel said.

But that did not seem to mind the guard. With the help of fellow Woodland grads Carrie Collins and Nicole Thompson she adapted well, first on the junior varsity and this year on the varsity.

Her 10 points in about eight minutes of play gave her a memory Tuesday as Warren crushed North Chicago 65-23. The win advances Warren (20-7) to the regional final, a third clash Thursday with Antioch.

"I worked on my shooting. I knew I was going to get in and I was going to light it up, I was known for my three-pointers on the junior varsity," Wessel said. "I have not been in a lot of close games, but if we are way ahead, I get in and try and do what I can."

Such was the case in the first post-season game as well. Wessel sparked Warren's reserves to an 8-of-14 fourth quarter shooting spree long after the game was decided.

She connected on a layup, then hit a trey from the baseline but missed a chance for a four-point play, hit another trey and completed the scoring.

"She is pretty good - she can shoot the ball. We bring her in when we need some offense," Warren Coach Bruce Campbell said of Wessel.

The Blue Devils, the second seed in the Stevenson sectional, looked like a well-prepared team as it started with an 8-0 lead.

"We had some hard practices and we were not taking them lightly. We give our starters a pretty good challenge in practice.

We always go hard," Wessel said.

The Blue Devils gained their 20th win and a shot at Antioch in the third match of the season. Warren won the first two clashes.

"They are a senior team and they have good ballhandlers. It will be a real battle," Campbell said. "We are young - we have eight of 12 who are back next year. Not a lot have been in the state tournament. They will have to gain a lot of experience quickly and they will respond," Campbell said.

"Defensively, I thought we did very well. We did get a lot of our offense off our defense. In games like this, it seems to work that way," Campbell said.

Senior Julie Minuskin led the way with 17 points, seven assists and six rebounds. "Julie had an excellent game. It was one of her best games I have seen her play in four years," Campbell said.

Freshman Tiffany Kelter added 10 points and classmate Becky Moo had eight.

North Chicago, the 15th seed, a team with only one senior, trailed 12-5 after one. The lead grew to 32-7 on a 20-2 Warren run. Minuskin had eight points and three assists in that run alone.

Warren was ahead 32-7 by halftime and the margin was 43-13 after three.

The Blue Devils started the post-season on a mission - to get beyond the regional final, the sectional semifinal on Feb. 19 at Stevenson.

"We want to get to the sectional final (Feb. 22) for Julie because she has never been there," Wessel said.

Sequoits earn effort at downing Blue Devils

Once the Antioch Sequoits figured out they were playing Mundein and not just waiting for the third clash with Warren High, things went according to plan.

The Lady Sequoits prevailed 39-28 Tuesday over Mundein, earning that coveted third try at Warren - this time in Thursday's regional final.

"Mundein came out and was fired up. We were looking past Mundein to play Warren. That was our wake-up call," Antioch Coach Dave Woods said.

The Sequoits led only 18-15 at halftime, but blitzed the Mustangs 24-10 in the second half to cruise to the 16th win.

Mundein's Blaire Beatty was a thorn in the side of Antioch (16-7) in the first 16 minutes, scoring eight points. She was held to a single point in the second half.

"We fronted her and we had aggressive pressure up front so they could not get the ball to her. We had some breakdowns on defense in the first half and she would turn and go to the basket," Woods said.

Soph Nicole Langley kept Antioch ahead in the first half with six points. "Without her scoring, we could have been down eight or nine points," Woods said.

Dana Pierson got the offense going in the second half, scoring eight of her 10 points. Carrie Gofron added seven.

"We executed much better once we got the lead," Woods said.

Antioch led 25-21 after three quarters.

Now the focus is on Warren - part three. A win there puts the Sequoits in the sectional semifinals in the second game at Stevenson Feb. 19. The final is Feb. 22.

"We will slow the game down. We want them to play defense and not have a lot of opportunities to score. We do not want Julie Minuskin or Tiffany Kelter to get in a groove. The first two games were both decided in the final three or four minutes. In the last game, we had 28 turnovers. We have to protect the ball better and we want to be in a position to win in the final two minutes," Woods said.

Blazers thrill crowd with 3-2 defeat of Lake Forest

The Warren Under 10 Blazers won their first indoor game of the season with a thrilling 3-2 victory over the Lake Forest Raptors.

Warren opened the scoring with a goal by Brennan O'Brien, assisted by Nick Weiler. After allowing Lake Forest to tie it up on the second half, Jeffrey Smantz and Steve Hammer assisted on a score by Spencer Masterson. Later that half, Smantz shot one in off of the post, assisted by Masterson and Michael Smantz. The Blazers held off a late Lake Forest Charge for the win.

Solid midfield play by Brian Cavanaugh and Patrick Schultz, along with great goalkeeping by Scott Shaw and Nathan Rittenberry led the Blazers to victory.

The Warren Under 12 Blazers fought to a 4-4 tie with Glenview.

At the end of the first half, the score was 2-2 with goals by Gabe Arias assisted by Dan Doyle and T.J. Prusila with an assist by Arias.

In the second half, with good defensive play by Matt Yates, Garrett Slemmons, Graham Jeep and Paul Dubler, the Blazers scored two more goals by Arias assisted by John Shelley and Mike Cook with an assist by Shelley.

The Warren Under 11 Blazers boys team edged the Libertyville Flames 2-1. Jake Thompson and Mike MacCallum scored goals for the Blazers. Ross Jensen and Ben Flood shared the goal duties.

The Blazers met the older and much bigger

Evanston Under 10 team Saturday and managed a 3-3 tie, due in large part to spectacular goal tending by John Parker and the solid defensive efforts of Christ Fildow, Kyle Olson and Greg Gayes.

Warren started strongly, scoring the opening two goals. The first coming on a centering pass from Mike Armour to a waiting Miles Egbert. Egbert immediately converted with a booming right foot shot. At about 10 minutes to go in the first half, Dominic Pelletiere broke out of the defensive zone and fed a streaking Bobby Reed, who had only the goalie to beat for Warren's second score.

Evanston's size began to prevail as they tied it up by half and took a 3-2 lead late in the second half. With about five minutes to go, the Blazers seemed to get their second wind. After a scramble in front of the Evanston net, Kevin Cook came free with the ball and blasted it into the net for the final score.

The Blazers are now 4-0-1 in league play and will meet the 5-0 Glenview team for sole possession of first place next week.

The Warren Under 16 Black Crows boys indoor soccer team tied Highland Park 2-2 at Sport 41 indoor facility.

Scoring for the Black Crows were Scott Merzlicker and Chris Porter, assisted by Matt Ukena. Good overall effort from Keith Chudd, Tony Pelletiere and Clay Scott, along with superb goaltending from Ed Montano.

Lindenhurst Power defeats Deerfield Pegasus

The Lindenhurst Power defeated Deerfield Pegasus 5-3 in their recent indoor match-up. The Power put the pressure on early, and was able to score first when Jamie Wismer converted on a one-touch pass from Jourdan Phillips. Deerfield came back to tie the score, but Wismer then scored her second goal off a passing combination from Sarah Richardson and Kristina Giangiorgi.

The Power went up 3-1 when Tracy Foster put in a board pass from Esther Scheurer. Richardson then tallied a goal of her own when she volleyed in a rebound coming off a long shot from Giangiorgi on a dead ball play. Deerfield then scored twice more before Foster was able to put in the insurance goal on the crossing pass from Tami Wright. The Power is now 6-0 on the season.

Antioch High is 'on the team'

Antioch Community High School held "Be on the Team" night at the boys' and girls' basketball games with Warren and Mundelein. The "Be on the Team" program, which is in its second year, involves adult members from the community who actively support students and coaches during the basketball season.

Each adult becomes a teammate to one member of the squad. They write letters of encouragement, attend games, and host their teammate and parents at the end of the season banquet. Over 80 players, managers and coaches are involved in the program this year. After the Warren and Mundelein games, a reception was held in the school commons.

The administration of Antioch Community High School is very supportive of the program. "Activities like those sponsored by the be on the team supporters make ACHS a special place" stated Dr. Dennis Hockney, superintendent of ACHS. "We want Antioch Community High School to be a place where students have precious memories of both their academic and non-academic experiences."

Principal Dr. Susan Mullendore commented that, "Be on the Team" enriches the school's athletic program and signifies the importance of community participation in the school's efforts to help young people reach their potential."

Jim Kafer, athletic director, credits Program Coordinator Ron Gillespie with setting up a first class organization. "The Be on the Team" program provides an excellent opportunity for school-community interaction. Our athletes really appreciate the support of their teammates and the program represents one more avenue by which the community can get involved with the school."

Ministry grows at Antioch United Methodist Church

The Christian caregiving ministry at the United Methodist Church in Antioch is growing. Four new lay ministers were commissioned in December. These new lay caregivers join the seven Stephen Ministers already commissioned. According to Pastor Kurt Gamlin, "I could not be happier or more excited that we now have eleven people who are committed to Christian caregiving."

These trained lay people, called Stephen Ministers, offer care and support for people experiencing life difficulties such as death and grief, job crisis, spiritual crisis, separation or divorce, households experiencing birth, adoption or disabilities, or those just needing the support of a Christian friend.

The lay ministers at the Antioch United Methodist Church have received 50 hours of intensive training in the skills of caring ministry, such as effective listening, telecare, the stress of hospitalization, and ministering to people undergoing such life crises as divorce, death of a loved one, aging, and depression.

Stephen Ministry is a confidential ministry—those receiving care can be sure that their identity and what goes on in the caring relationship will remain private. In addition to the training, these Christian lay caregivers will continue to receive twice monthly continuing education and supervision support sessions as they strive to offer the highest quality Christian caregiving.

These people make up the Stephen Ministry program at the Antioch United Methodist Church. To date more than 3,000 churches throughout the United States, Canada, and several foreign countries, representing more than 60 different denominations, have implemented this program of lay Christian caregiving.

Called the "Stephen Series", this program is sponsored by Stephen Ministries in St. Louis, Missouri. The Antioch United Methodist Church has been part of the Stephen Series since 1994. According to Tricia Robinson, clergy and lay persons are trained in a 12-day Leader's Training Course, to return to their local congregations to recruit and train lay people in the skills of Christian caregiving.

"Stephen Ministers are doubly blessed. First by helping people in the church family and community in times of need. Second through the caring and supportive relationships that develop between Stephen Ministers as they go through their training classes and supervision groups," says Pastor Gamlin.

Bruce Padbury, one of the new Stephen Ministers, says "During the initial training sessions, I came to a greater understanding of how God helps me every day in my life. I really appreciate the guidance and support which I continue to receive from the other Stephen Ministers during our ongoing training and supervision sessions."

The Antioch United Methodist Church expects their Stephen Ministry to continue to be a source of warmth, care, and blessing for many years to come, enabling the entire congregation to grow as a nurturing community where people are cherished and cared for, and their needs taken seriously, all in the name of Jesus Christ.

If you are interested, or have more questions about the Stephen Ministry at the Antioch United Methodist Church, or if you know someone who needs care and support at this time, contact Pastor Kurt Gamlin or Tricia Robinson at (847) 395-1259.

Public transportation could get a new 'personal'ity

SUZIE REED

Staff Reporter

The most accurate analogy might be "The Jetsons ride to Disneyland," as plans for the Personal Rapid Transit (PRT) system move along closer to reality.

Cars that hold up to four people will run on automated elevated guideways (monorails) 16 feet off the ground. They will be available on demand 24 hours a day and can transport passengers non-stop from their point of origin to the desired destination. They will not replace current public transportation or private vehicles; these methods will still be necessary for passengers to get to the specially designed stations.

Members of the Transportation Management Association of Lake County got a preview of the system from Laura Jibben, executive director for the Regional Transportation Authority (RTA) serving northeastern Illinois.

The concept was unveiled last August in Rosemont, where the first system may be a reality within the next few years. That particular area was chosen as a site for a prototype because of the convention traffic. Riders would include those coming from the city on public transportation as well as those traveling between hotels around the

"The future is now," said Jibben. "Times have changed and are going to continue to change."

"With the PRT we will boldly go where no man—or woman—has gone before," she added for the benefit of "Star Trek" fans.

The innovative service is more flexible and less expensive than conventional systems, she said. It will also be reliable and comfortable for travelers as well as more efficient and effective.

The RTA is responsible for an area twice the size of the State of Delaware and serves a million passengers every day. A video presentation showed typical traffic jams and highway congestion area drivers face every day. The electrically-powered PRT would decrease traffic congestion caused by short-term trips while allowing passengers to ride in private, secure cars. The system would increase the mobility of employers, employees, customers and vendors attending the many conventions at the Horizon and area hotels, prompting the slogan, "Now we're getting somewhere."

"It's a good business venture," said Jibben. "It will result in reduced operating and maintenance costs."

Commuters would come to the off-line station either by private car or conventional public transportation, then purchase a ticket to a particular destination through a See PRT page B2

Grayslake reservist connects Bosnia to 'net'

Navy officer draws on Lakeland netDirect experience

RHONDA HETRICK BURKE
Editor in Chief

The World Wide Web truly connects the entire world, even the war-ravaged former Yugoslavia where military public affairs officers are passing internal information throughout Europe via the Internet.

Naval Reserve Lieutenant Bill Schroeder reported for 30-days of duty with U.S. Allied Forces South (AFSOUTH) in Naples, Italy during January to help connect the multi-national force in Bosnia with NATO via the Internet.

"My mission during the 30-days was to get the operation side of a military newspaper organized and to connect the public information officers within Bosnia to AFSOUTH by utilizing the world wide web," Schroeder said.

The reserve public affairs officer drew on his real-life work experience as General Manager of Lakeland Publishers, Inc., and its subsidiary company Lakeland netDirect to accomplish the task.

"NATO asked me to organize and plan for printing and distribution of a weekly newspaper for the multinational force stationed in Bosnia," Schroeder said. "The paper is written in English, the official language of NATO, and is printed in Naples. The paper is then flown into Bosnia for distribution at the four major multinational force locations." The four areas include: Sarajevo, Tuzla, Split and Zagreb.

Because of the lack of international phone lines available in Bosnia, NATO officials opted to set up a system by which the field public information offices in each of the locations could "e-mail" stories back to NATO for publication in the weekly newspaper. The stories are supplemented with photographs taken by the Combat Camera Team.

"Because of the lack of phone lines available in Bosnia, it was impractical for the newspaper submission to be sent by fax or phoned-in," said Schroeder. As part of his responsibilities, Schroeder had to secure a contract with a Naples printer and arrange for distribution of the paper.

During his final week assigned to AFSOUTH, Schroeder was asked to travel to Sarajevo to set-up the field public information office with lap-top computers, See BOSNIA page B2

Grainger Woods Preserve becomes reality

The deed is in hand.

Officials of W.W. Grainger, Inc., presented a fee simple deed to Lake County Board Chairman Robert W. Depke, conveying a 257-acre parcel to the Lake County Forest Preserve District—the largest single land donation in district history.

The Lake County Forest Preserve then approved naming its newest parcel, "Grainger Woods Conservation Preserve."

The donation is part of the deal worked out that gave Grainger zoning for its new corporate complex at the southwest corner of Rte. 60 and the Tri-State tollway.

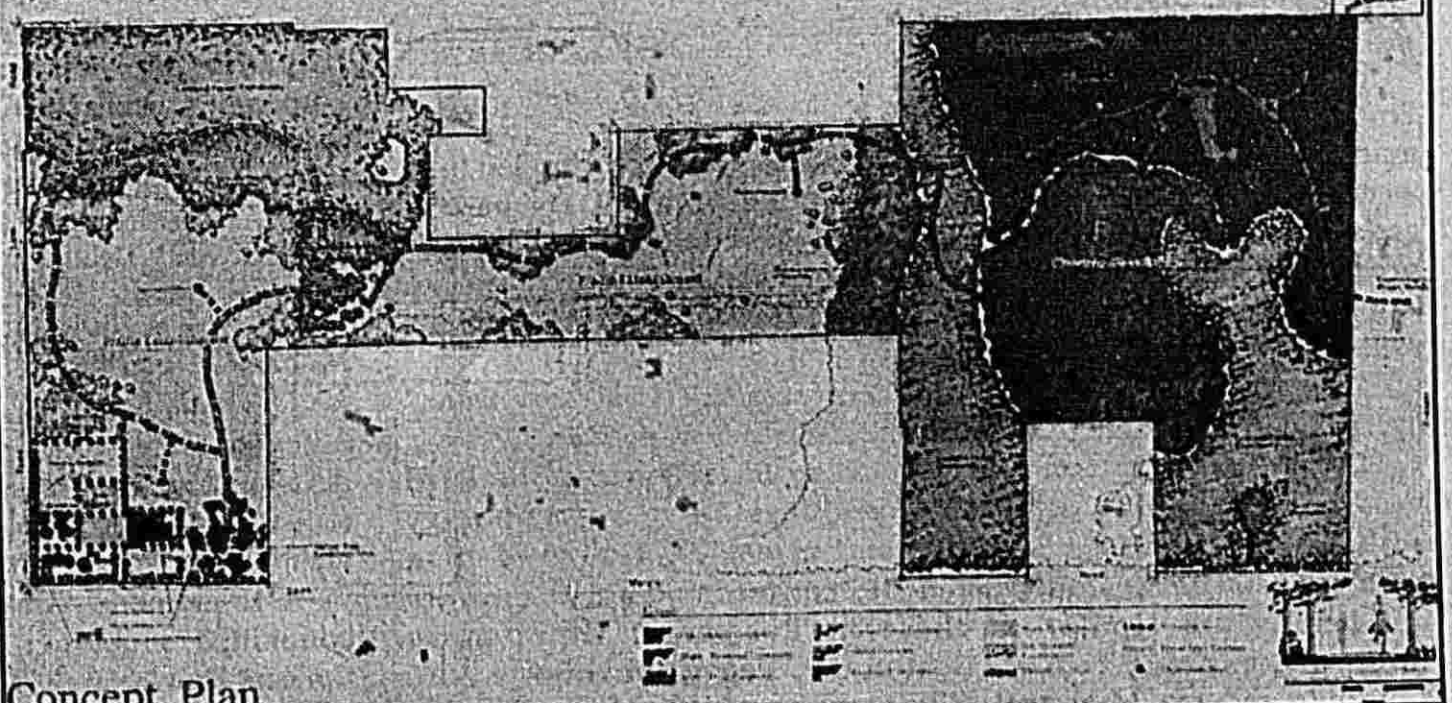

"The gift we make today is the direct result of the cooperation between the Lake County Board and Grainger," said James M. Baisley, Grainger's senior vice president, general counsel, and secretary. "Conservation development land planning allows the interests of conservation and business to come together in a manner that results in great public benefit."

"We always wanted this parcel but we could never afford it," said James LaBelle, forest preserve commissioner. "It's a great pleasure to accept this deed." Forest Preserve Commissioners estimate the value of the land See PRESERVE page B2

Class aims to keep new drivers safe

STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

A teen-ager is pulled over by a policeman for speeding 12 miles over the speed limit.

If this is the first offense, chances are he or she will be able to take a defensive driving course, pay court costs and have a chance to be a better driver the rest of his or her life.

Such is the aim of Defensive Driving Course—Alive at 25, sponsored by Lake County Circuit Court System and College of Lake County. The first day-long session will be held at CLC Feb. 24.

"The younger drivers are the ones with the most fatalities. We want these drivers to be alive at 25," Pete Marthouse, program director, said.

The four-session day includes discussions of why young drivers violate the law, an opportunity to learn of errors made in driving and defensive driving principles and learn how to control their own behavior.

"They feel insulated by the car and that nothing will happen to them - until something happens to them or a family member," Lisa Daniels, instructor, said.

"I served in traffic court for one and one-half years and saw young drivers come in with attitudes. I could fine them, but there was no instructional program to help prevent them from doing it again. This is just such a program," Stephen Walter, chief judge, said.

The announcement of the program comes just three weeks after four teens were killed in a head-on collision in Gurnee.

Daniels said the program compliments the regular drivers education curriculum. She explained there is talk of having a separate license for teens which would restrict when they could drive until they had mastered necessary skills.

Issues discussed include peer pressure and discussions of problems and solutions. Students hear testimonials about the impact of reckless driving from crash victims and how the collision has changed their lives.

At the conclusion, participants are asked to determine one thing they could do to improve their driving habits.

Benefits include: the material is presented in the kids' language; there is an interactive format; it is always new and teachers are certified by the National Safety Council to teach this program.

Walter said the response to the pilot program at CLC has been positive.

"There are still more boys than girls, but the number of girls has been increasing," Daniels said.

Women's Aglow Fellowship to host retreat in March

The Women's Aglow Fellowship of the Chicago-North Suburban area will sponsor a retreat at the Arlington Park Hilton March 15 and 16.

Speakers will include Eva Dooley, DeLoris Moore and Peggy Scarlett who will share their special ministry and offer encouragement and support. Debi Godsey will present a special session for teenage girls.

Participants will hear inspiring stories of women who have triumphed over difficult situations. The fellowship holds monthly meetings along with retreats and conferences several times a year.

The retreat will run from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. each day, with sessions offered in the morning, afternoon and evening. For the most part, meals are up to the individual participant, said organizer JoAnn Michonski. A special luncheon is planned for Saturday at noon, at a cost of $17.

Those who wish to attend the meetings only may do so. The cost of the two-day retreat is $30; participants may opt to attend either day for $15. Reservations for the conference should be made by March 6. A late fee of $5 will be assessed after that and the cost will be $20 per day.

To register, or for more information on the Women's Aglow Fellowship call 678-2452. The Arlington Park Hilton is located at 3400 Euclid Ave. near Rte. 53.

machine resembling an ATM. The automated system, controlled from a central facility, would bring a car within three minutes. The passenger(s) would board and the car would merge onto the one-way track, proceeding at a speed of 30 mph to the destination station. The track would make a loop, with off-line stations at various points along the route.

"The RTA is responsive to what our passengers say they want," explained Jibben. "safe transportation when they want to go."

The project is a team effort between Raytheon and the RTA, proving that a public agency can develop new technology with private industry, said Jibben. A test track a third of a mile long is being constructed at Marlborough, Mass., where conditions are similar to those at Rosemont. Other areas interested in the system are Boston, Las Vegas, Providence, R.I., Colorado resorts, New York City airports, South Africa, Sweden and China.

"The PRT will bring transportation to a new plateau," said Jibben.

modems and other equipment necessary to ensure information was passed to NATO in time for weekly publication.

"It is easy to see that Sarajevo was once a modern city," said Schroeder. "The devastation of the city is much greater than it appears on news reports. Virtually every home and building within the city has been damaged. It was very muddy and smelled like an industrial city. Parts of the city looked like a junk yard with tanks and other military equipment abandoned on the roadways."

Schroeder said despite the devastation, the evidence of rebirth was everywhere. "Roofs and glass were being replaced and homes in which part of the house had been damaged in a bombing we sealed off with plastic to make the home livable," Schroeder said. "The people on the street were well-groomed and busy working to rebuild their lives. They carried themselves with a real sense of dignity."

Alongside the roads were impromptu markets with vendors selling food, household supplies and heating fuel while the evidence of three years of civil war were everywhere.

"You can't walk through most of the parks because they are still mined," said Schroeder. "They told us not to pick-up anything as it was popular to booby-trap pop cans and such to explode."

Most of the vehicle traffic in Sarajevo was military and the street cars had been working for just a few days when he visited.

"There are many checkpoints throughout the city," Schroeder said. "The roads were very muddy and littered with pot holes. The traffic signals were not working."

Schroeder said his impressions in working with the multi-national force in country were that it was going very well.

"There seem to be a lot of cooperation amongst the multi-national force and a real sense of surprise at how smoothly things were working," Schroeder said. "The public information officers at the various locations throughout Bosnia reported that there had been few incidents and those which occurred were not supported by Bosnian leaders."

"We have so much to be thankful for in America," he said. "These people are worried about how they will eat and stay warm and how long peace will last. When they begin to build economic stability they will rebuild Sarajevo, you can see that in the people."

at $10 million.

"We have always wanted to preserve the land," said Jere Fluno, Grainger vice chairman. "When we purchased the property we could just purchased the site for the corporate complex, but we wanted to preserve the entire parcel."

The 257-acre parcel contains the largest natural grove of sugar maple trees known in Illinois and several other native plants and species including a rare stand of northern flatwoods and valuable wetlands.

The land donation by Grainger is being touted as a national model of an innovative public/private partnership and is part of Grainger's unique conservation development plan for its new 515-acre corporate headquarters. The plan includes an office campus, a single-family housing development along Everett Road and over 300 acres of open space.

"The conservation development allowed us to preserve the large area of open space," said Fluno. "I think it is a model for the future and something our employees and Lake County will benefit from."

The Grainger issue was long-argued and pitted the corporation against the Village of Mettawa, eventually leading to a court decision which allowed Grainger to deannex from Mettawa and seek zoning from the county. That decision was made in 1992. In late 1995, Mettawa and Grainger reached an agreement on Grainger's plans, clearing the way for delivery of the deed to the forest preserve. Grainger purchased the property in 1988.

"Grainger has worked hard to accommodate the interests of everyone affected by its conservation development, and it is worth noting that Mettawa has requested that this new Forest Preserve be named after the Grainger company," said LaBelle.

A 13-member "Green ribbon" citizen advisory committee supported by Grainger developed a Concept Plan for the 257-acre parcel in a report delivered to Lake County Forest Preserve District Board of Commissioners last year. The committee of local landowners, conservationists, land planners and representatives of equine, horticultural and other community interests, gathered public testimony in nine open meetings. It has been recommended that development of the property emphasize the preservation and restoration of the natural features of the area, while providing public access for nature study, hiking and similar activities.

Grainger also recognized the efforts of County Board Chairman Bob Depke in making the development a reality.

"He was the first public official we met who wanted us to be a part of Lake County," Fluno said.

Tree sale brings promise of spring

As Lake County residents battle brutal winter temperatures, the Soil & Water Conservation District is looking ahead to planting season. Order forms are available for the 14th annual tree sale, with pickup scheduled for April 19 and 20 at the Lake County Fairgrounds.

The brochure describes eight varieties of evergreens, 18 kinds of deciduous trees, 15 different shrubs, three groundcovers, along with hydrangeas, roses and raspberries. Prices range from $8 for Purple Leaf Wintercreeper to $49.50 for 5- to 6-foot magnolia and birch trees.

To receive a complete listing of available plantings, call 223-1056. The deadline for ordering is March 29.

Plants may be picked up at the poultry building between 8 a.m. and 7 p.m. April 19 and from 8 a.m. to noon April 20. All orders are prepaid.

AT A GLANCE

Senior housing considered

ROUND LAKE BEACH—An unnamed not-for-profit organization is seeking permission from the village board to construct a 160-unit senior apartment complex off Rollins Road on Nicole Drive. The apartments would cost between $1,400 and $1,500 a month and would include two meals a day, private transportation to shopping, and maid service, according to Fred Weizmann, attorney representing the firm. The three-story complex would be constructed on a 5-acre tract just north of the Aldi store. The board will vote on the issue at the Feb. 26 meeting.

Vehicle stickers to go

GRAYSLAKE—The Village of Grayslake is considering eliminating vehicle sticker requirements for its residents and replacing them with a utility surcharge. The surcharge would be in the form of a 2 and one half percent electricity surcharge. The current price for a one year vehicle sticker in the village is $12. Seniors would receive a discount on the surcharge. They currently receive a discount on their vehicle stickers but the disadvantage would be to those who currently don't drive. They would be hit with a new expense.

Dist. 95 gets high ratings

LAKE ZURICH—Results of a community survey show a high percentage of parents and community members are satisfied with the quality of education in Lake Zurich Unit District 95. An independent poll of 400 individuals revealed that 91 percent of parents were "very satisfied" and "satisfied" with the quality of education offered at Dist. 95 schools. Dr. Bonnie Henry, school board president, said she was "very pleased" with the results. "They seem to be very positive and show overall that parents and non-parents alike have a high evaluation of the school district as a whole," Henry said. The random telephone survey was conducted by Market Shares Corporation, of Chicago, from Jan. 7 through 13, with 250 parents of Dist. 95 children and 150 non-parents responding.

School takes day for message

WAUCONDA—Wauconda Middle School is reinforcing its anti-substance abuse message this week with Operation Snowflake. The school is taking an all-out attack on fighting peer pressure and increasing self esteem among its students. Snowflake is an annual event that is usually held on a weekend or school holiday for students who choose to attend, said Marty Pieper, school guidance counselor and coordinator of Snowflake. This year, the school decided the message was too important for only a small percentage of students to hear, so they decided to hold it during a school day. "We decided to try to devote an entire school day, so more students could attend," Pieper said. Nearly all of the seventh grade class will participate in Snowflake activities at the school and at Camp Algonquin in Cary on Feb. 15.

Young car thieves charged

FOX LAKE—Two teenagers old enough to be processed as adults have been placed in detention by a circuit court judge and a younger child was turned over to his parents following a late night rampage on the theft from seven motor vehicles in Fox Lake. In the early morning hours of Monday, Fox Lake police officers observed a car with several people in it who appeared to be youths, which was seen traveling all around town. Police pulled the youths car over shortly after 3 a.m. on Route 12. In the vehicle, officers were surprised to find a number of items which appeared to be stolen. After questioning, the youths admitted they had taken the things out of cars they found parked around town, both in private and public parking lots and along village streets. All three were transported to the Fox Lake Police Department where the two elder alleged assailants, Bradley L. Garcia, 17, of McHenry and Joshua D. Murray, 18, of Pistakee Highlands were charged with theft to motor vehicles, and trespassing to motor vehicles. The subjects were both released on recognizance bonds of $20,000 and $30,000 bonds, and were ordered to be on house arrest.

Board welcomes members

GURNEE—Warren Township approved two new members to the Warren Youth Advisory Board. The board guides the Warren Township Youth Services, which serves township teens out of Warren Township Center. The new members are Christine Saffell and Joe Hubbard. Saffell is a Gurnee police officer while Hubbard works for Gurnee Fire Department.

Ozite is leaving Libertyville

LIBERTYVILLE—Ozite, a specialty textile manufacturer located at Route 137 and Butterfield Road in Libertyville, has been sold to Foss manufacturing of New Hampshire. The new owner has decided to close the Libertyville facility. As of March 8th, the plant will cease operation. There are 100-110 employees at the corporation according to plant manager Craig Boss.

Retail center plans unveiled

MUNDELEIN—A plan for commercial development on 28.5 acres at the corner of Rtes. 60/83 and 176 would include not only a large food anchor but also a national retail store, a banking institution and two restaurants. Property owner Jack Reddy hopes to develop the last parcel on 325 acres he has owned for 30 years. Negotiations are underway with several potential tenants, said attorney David Laidley. The center would be extensively bermed from neighboring Cambridge homes, said Jon Talty, president of Otis Architects.

Time for a leader, time for Al Salvi

Shamefully, Illinois voters, buffeted by the political winds of change, have opted for a combination of obsolescence and mediocrity for representation in the U.S. Senate.

Four years ago, Democrats voting in the primary ended a notable career in public office compiled by Sen. Alan Dixon. Some years before that, electors in the general election, defeated for reelection Republican incumbent Sen. Charles Percy, whose record in the U.S. Senate rivaled a brilliant record in private industry achieved before he entered public life.

Today, Illinois' is represented by Sen. Paul Simon, whose New Deal philosophy of government and liberalism long since have become outmoded, and Sen. Carol Moseley-Braun, recognized by the historical fact that she was the first African-American woman to serve in the U.S. Senate and a distinction that, as indicated by her record to date, likely will be the only illuminating facet of her career in the Senate.

With one exception, the pattern of lack of distinction in the Illinois Senate team seems destined to continue based on the candidates both parties are offering in the March 19 primary. The lone exception is a young Republican from Lake County, who is facing monumental opposition from party bigwigs who anointed one of their own to succeed Simon, who chose to vacate his office for semi-retirement as a college professor.

If State Rep. Al Salvi is to prevail, it will be up to the GOP rank and file to fend off party dictates in the primary and offer voters in the November general election a senatorial candidate with promise and potential to restore at least one Illinois seat in the U.S. Senate to a place of influence and respect.

From the start of his first term in the Illinois General Assembly representing a west Lake County district, Salvi established a reputation as a hard-working, conscientious lawmaker who could make up his own mind. While well established as a conservative Republican, Salvi also became known early in his first term as a legislator who strove to put principal above party. This characteristic didn't go unnoticed by party chieftains who chafed over Salvi's independent nature, but it ingratiated him with Republicans who like representatives who put issues ahead of party dictates.

Weighing in early as pro-family, anti abortion and anti-tax, Salvi has tackled tough issues like the tax cap that have been extremely unpopular with professional educators and the teachers' union. He has questioned the need for Rte. 53 that has made him unpopular with the GOP leadership. Salvi has worked hard to sort out complicated problems like non-discriminatory adoptions and caring for cocaine babies. Al stood with local residents in fighting the placement of an asphalt plant near Big Hollow School, much to the displeasure of the road building lobby and the chagrin of Republican leadership.

To prove that he is human, Salvi stubbed his toe badly in voting present on a tort reform issue supported by his party that clearly was in the best interests of all Illinois citizens.

Al Salvi's conduct and record exhibits a willingness to study issues and take positions. Salvi is not a waffler. He stays in close touch with his constituents. Al Salvi has convictions and strong beliefs, and they show through in everything he does.

Al, his wife, Kathy, and their family agonized over whether he should cut short his promising career in the Illinois House and challenge GOP kingmakers by seeking higher office. They are not too proud to admit that it was a difficult decision and that they changed their mind several times.

In the end, Al and Kathy decided that the people of Illinois will support a candidate for the U.S. Senate who has faith in God, a sense of direction, strong beliefs and a willingness to fight long odds.

We think they made the right decision. We are proud to endorse Al Salvi for the Republican nomination for the U.S. Senate in the March 19 primary.

VIEWPOINT Brando image hovers over disputed farm

BILL SCHROEDER

Publisher

Nothing like a celebrity spin to spice up a local zoning hassle.

The image of Marlon Brando hovers over efforts of developer Tim Towne to get zoning approval for development of the former 40 acre Brando farm on Hawley St. west of Mundelein.

Lake County officials claim Towne is pulling a "bait and switch," asking for suburban zoning a year ago and coming back now with a plan for 100 town homes, 150,000 square feet of retail and office, and a nine-hole golf course.

"No way," chorused county officers. Mindful of election year politics and growing opposition toward high density developments, County Board Rep. Dick Raftis (R-Wildwood), invoked the S suburban class bugaboo, claiming the one-time Brando property originally was ticketed for one-acre home sites.

Mundelein Mayor Marilyn Sindles chimed in with support for large lots, declaring that the Towne plans "will open up the entire county to this type of high density spot development."

The Brando site is in the vicinity of the ritzy Ivanhoe Club golf complex of expensive homes and Steeplechase Golf Club which is surrounded by upscale homes. A short distance away is the county's 36-hole Countryside Golf Club complex. County planners and Mundelein officials are not impressed by Towne's pitch and putt layout.

The famous actor spent high school days on the farm acquired by his parents in the late 1930's. He attended Libertyville High School during World War II and was known as Bud Brando. He only returned infrequently after that to visit his sister, Frances Loving, who was a long-time resident.

The small farm was known as the "Brando place" until Mrs. Loving left. She died two years ago.

ILLINI TOURNEY—Plans have solidified for the first ever University of Illinois Athletic Assn. golf outing in Lake County. The event will be staged Monday, July 15, at the exclusive Merit Club located in a hilly area east of Grayslake and north of Libertyville.

Steve Green, executive with the AA's Chicago office, said the outing will offer Orange and Blue supporters a rare opportunity to play the members only club. Proceeds go for athletic scholarships. Ticket prices haven't yet been established, but be prepared to ante up $1,000 if you're planning a foursome.

Illini golf outings always are complete affairs with cocktails and dinner going with 18 holes of golf. Wonder if the two Lous will be on hand to talk about the fortunes of future UofI football and basketball teams?

COMMENTARY Salvage Toll Authority with converted freeways

JOHN S. MATIJEVICH

Former state representative

(Second of two articles)

Back to the Rte. 120 "song and dance."

When opponents of the Rte. 53 extension rightly argued why build a tollway on that route when we now have a freeway, the tollway officials scoffed. But, when a sizeable number of "voters" picked up the theme, political people leaned on the Authority and up popped this "new" free Rte. 120 scheme!

Except for Lakeland Newspapers, other local newspapers picked up the "Thou Shalt be Free" routine. The Rte. 53 extension, in and of itself, is pegged anywhere from over $1 billion to over $2 billion. Now comes this extra $40 million or so for a new frontage Rte. 120. That's free? Come now!

It's a fan dance and smoke screen. Actually, it amounts to a $40 million admission by IDOT and the Tollway authorities that their adversaries are right. It should be a freeway. Don't mess with it.

For example, let's say that we're sucked in by this "free Rte. 120" ruse. What happens when we come to construction time? Where will the traffic that is now using the paid-up Rte. 120 go? Down a sewer? Our east-west arterials are already shackled. Someone's genius in construction timing has congested traffic on Rte. 176 at the tollway, and the inordinately long bridge work on Washington St. at Rte. 41 and some intermittent work on Rte. 120. Think ahead about what will happen when they make a mess of Rte. 120 if the Rte. 53 extension and "frontage 120" were to proceed. We live in a real world. It would be intolerable while they build it. And after it's completed, you will still have east-west congestion in Lake County.

So, what's the answer? There is never an answer to everything. But, there can be a beginning. The tollway system was created because of the revenue limitations of the state's "old" constitution. The 1970 Constitution opened up the state's bonding authority. The need for an "outside tollway authority," a quasi-public agency with no oversight from the state, is no longer necessary.

There are ways that it can be turned into a viable state agency, even with the present obligation to bondholders. The sooner that happens the better, for the benefit of present and future taxpayers of Illinois, not to mention motorists.

For motorists, the Tri-State and Northwest Tollways should be converted into freeways. The sooner that happens, the better, too. Tollway people ask how can taxpayers afford to repair the system.

Development in Lake County will come naturally and the burdens on everyone will be less and will be more tolerable when it happens that way. The extension of Rte. 53 will, believe it or not, cause greater congestion in areas that can least handle it, the east-west arterials.

Firstly, when the tollway concept began, that was taken into consideration—build the highway with tolls and motor fuel taxes would maintain it. Secondly, after taking our toll payments over 15 years after the highways were actually paid for, do you mean to tell me that they don't owe us "something back" for upgrading work?

Rte. 53 proponents say that it is needed to handle future development. It's like which came first, the chicken or the egg. I recall when I attended a

-PARTY LINES-

Foes both like Rte. 53, conceal weapons law

Partylines, Lakeland Newspapers column of political commentary, is prepared from staff reports.

Don't look for an argument on Rte. 53 between the two attorneys running for the Republican nomination for state representative from the 52nd Dist.

Both Philip A. Mullinex, 42, of Grayslake and Mark Beaubien, 60, of Barrington are for the $1 billion highway project.

Mullinex told a candidate's night audience in Ingleside that Rte. 53 slicing through mid-Lake County is "inevitable." Beaubien called the roadway a "non-issue for the General Assembly because Illinois legislators turned it over to the Tollway Authority."

Asked about a state voucher system to allow parents more school choice, Mullinex said he's all for vouchers. Beaubien said, "I'm cautiously supportive."

Somewhat surprisingly, Beaubien said he could support a conceal carry weapons law that Mullinex regards as one of his key campaign planks for crime prevention.

So what's the difference between Mullinex and Beaubien? For starters, Beaubien has the party endorsement. His backers say that's enough to insure the nomination to succeed Al Salvi in the district including Grant, Avon, Wauconda, Fremont (Mundelein), Cuba and part of Elia (Lake Zurich) townships.

Easy street—State Sen. Peter Fitzgerald (R-Palatine) is on cruise control. He's in an uncontested primary. What a difference from two years ago when he was lambasting Congressman Phil Crane for the Republican nomination 8th Dist. Fitzgerald will face a faceless Democrat in November.

Surprise help—Al Westerman's best campaign literature might be the glitzy mailer put out by the man he is challenging for a Republican nomination for the Lake County Board, powerful Chairman Bob Depke.

The chairman's expensive, four-color piece loaded with photos is in sharp contrast to Westerman's "plain Jane" single sheet flyer. "I just have voters look at both pieces of literature side by side and let them draw their own conclusions," declared the former Forest Preserve staffer, who is considered a long shot.

Fast start—Insurance executive and Green Oaks Mayor Tom Adams is banking on a fast start to separate himself from the crowded field running to succeed retiring State Sen. David Barkhausen (R-Lake Forest) in the 30th Dist. in south central Lake County.

Adams has influential Republicans like County Board Rep. Pam Newton (R-Vernon Hills) and businessman Chuck Bartels organizing a major Barkhausen rally Tuesday, Feb. 20, at Julie's Country Western Saloon, Lincolnshire. Besides heavy duty political conversation there will be country dancing for a fun evening.

Ryan endorses Kustra—Secretary of State George Ryan has endorsed Lt. Gov. Bob Kustra in his race for the GOP nomination for the U.S. Senate. Kustra is being challenged in the Republican Party Primary by State Rep. Al Salvi. The Salvi campaign has speculated from the onset that they would garner the support of Ryan. "To regain this seat, our party must field a candidate with intelligence, courage and experience," Ryan said. "I believe this candidate is Lt. Gov. Bob Kustra."

Waller bash—The Glen Flora Country Club in Waukegan will be the site of a reception honoring Judge Jane Drew Waller, candidate for full circuit court judge for the 19th judicial circuit. The reception, co-chaired by Glenda Schueneman of Wadsworth and Anne Conzelman Linn of Waukegan, will take place Feb. 18 from 3 to 5 p.m. Among the big Foreman names expected to attend are: former U.S. Attorney Fred Foreman, and the immediate past president of the Illinois State Bar Association David Decker. For tickets or information call 336-4550.

More Neal supporters—Warren Township Republicans have added their names to the growing list of supporters of Bob Neal's campaign for Recorder of Deeds. The announcement comes as no surprise as Neal is the one of the township's golden politicians.

You're not elected yet—Forest Preserve Commissioners chided Wadsworth representative Bob Neal when he took the deed to the Grainger Woods Conservation Preserve in hand following the official presentation of the deed to the Forest Preserve, Feb. 13. They reminded the confident politician he hasn't been elected yet. Neal faces off against Alberta Myers in the Republican primary, March 19.

No bull—Suzi Schmidt has managed to obtain two Bulls tickets to be raffled off at her no-admission fun-raiser March 2 at the VFW hall. "We are just going to have a lot of fun," said Schmidt, who is seeking to retain her Dist. 3 County Board seat in the March 19th primary. The tickets for Chicago's most successful sporting team will be just one of many prizes raffled during the evening.

Bank prediction—Frustrated by meager raises and growing debt, American consumers are mad—and they'll get even at the polls in November—said Diane Swonk, deputy chief economist of the First National Bank of Chicago. The economist predicts that even in the Midwest where economic conditions are better, few office holders will have a cakewalk.

Giving credit—County Board Member Angelo Kyle of North Chicago made sure his fellow board members remembered who planted the seed to develop a year-in-review video on the county's achievements following its presentation Feb. 13. He did. While others were thanking U.S. Cable and Producer Anne O'Connell, the Kyle county's public information officer, Kyle received his due thanks as well.

-LETTERS TO THE EDITOR-

Tolerating unresponsiveness

I agree with your editorial that there is no viable Democratic party in Lake County.

As you pointed out, national issues do overshadow local problems, which does not help local Democratic candidates. And to carry your argument further it seems to me that local Democratic candidates are put in the same kettle with Washington liberals by the voters.

You also criticize the Democratic leadership, lack of quality candidates, the turn-coats and the silent minority on the County Board. Your analysis may be correct. However, you and other members of the local fourth estate must share in this malaise because your views concerning the political situation at the White House and Congress affect local politics.

It is ironic that the press and majority of voters in Lake County condemn the paternalistic and patronizing attitude of the far left while they tolerate this same attitude from some of their local Republican office holders and continue to endorse and re-elect them, even though they know these politicians are unresponsive to the wishes of the people.

In your editorial you cite examples of local political unresponsiveness to the people: "...catering to the builder-developer lobby, preservation of open space, environmental protection and hell-bent growth, and development policies that are bankrupting our public schools while destroying Lake County's country character." Should we also add political bosses disregarding the wishes of the voters when the people reject local or county projects which are deemed to be too expensive, too wasteful, or not needed.

Was the political change in Washington, D.C. long overdue? If your answer is yes, then what is your response for a change in Lake County?

Widen roads now

Editor:

On Tuesday, Jan. 23, many of my neighbors and I braved the cold and snow to attend the "public meeting" held at the Mundelein Holiday Inn. Although the video presentation was informative and Dept. of Transportation staff members were courteous and professional, I must admit I was disappointed by not being given the opportunity to voice my opinion publicly. Once again, we were herded like sheep through their maze of maps and literature only to leave with the empty feeling of futility.

I was pleased to learn of the alternatives to the "build" option and would like to take this opportunity to endorse the "Arterials Alternative." If you build it (a superhighway), they (the predicted growth) will come. Just look at what happened around Woodfield. If you improve existing roads, there is less impact and less expense for everyone.

If the growth in central Lake County is such a concern, why aren't they making improvements now? Why not widen Route 176 to four lanes now? Why not widen Hawley to four lanes now? Why not widen Midlothian to four lanes now? Why not widen Peterson to four lanes now? Why not widen Route 83 to four lanes now? And finally, this past summer, Route 45 was improved (for $350,000) at Peterson, only to be widened to four lanes in 1997 or 1998. Why not widen Route 45 to four lanes NOW?

I am sending copies of this letter to every group opposed to FAP 342. I am concerned by their lack of presence at this latest public meeting and ask that they form a coalition to make sure the 53 extension is not built.

State hides Rte. 53 info

Editor:

The Jan. 26 article on the front page of the County section in your publication does harm to many Grayslake residents as myself because about 20 percent of the project is omitted from the map. It would be in the best interest of readers to reprint the map showing the proposed west extension of Rte. 53.

It amazes me, but many residents are still unaware of the proximity of the proposed Rte. 53 to their homes, churches, schools, businesses and cemeteries. The state will not inform people like us about their plans to acquire a home by rule of eminent domain until it's too late to do anything. Then they'll offer peanuts for the property that is your life savings.

The proposed west extension ends at Baxter's Round Lake facility where it joins Route 120. IDOT plans this extension although the projected growth west of Rte. 83 is minimal according to their own study. I may not be able to get this project killed with letters like this, but let's at least get the whole story out to the affected residents. I would gladly be displaced by Rte. 53 if the state wasn't adding insult to injury by offering 15 to 50 cents on the dollar of the fair market value of the homes (as assessed before the proposed construction).

Commentary

Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission (NIPC) symposium at least 30 years ago and they boasted that within a decade or two the whole area from Chicago to Milwaukee should be one megalopolis and we'd better prepare for it with all of the infrastructure.

Well, it just didn't happen the way they planned. Just a few years ago, I was on a NIPC panel and the theme seemed to be, "just where did we go wrong." In all of those years, population has increased only by about four percent; population really only shifted, and that has proved overly costly, to the "shiflers" and the "shiftees."

Development in Lake County will come naturally and the burdens on everyone will be less and will be more tolerable when it happens that way. The extension of Rte. 53 will, believe it or not, cause greater congestion in areas that can least handle it, the east-west arterials.

Rte. 53 may cause accelerated development in Lake County, but is that in everyone's best interests? Years ago, they were building service stations on every corner, and some called that progress. Now, we're trying to cope with all of those underground gas tanks. That's tough enough; it's not as easy to peddle empty shopping malls.

Editor's note: John Matijevich served with distinction in the Illinois General Assembly for more than a quarter century. A Democrat, he was defeated for reelection after a Republican redistricting plan put him in a predominantly Republican district on the North Shore.

This is the third in an ongoing series of ethics-related seminars, specifically designed for physicians, nurses and other clinicians who work with terminally ill patients. Ozar, an authority on medical ethics, is co-director of Graduate Studies in Health Care Ethics at Loyola University in Chicago and an adjunct professor at the Stritch School of Medicine. In addition to his academic work, Ozar consults for area health care organizations, including Hospice of the North Shore and Evanston Hospital.

Kosova is currently working as an ethics consultant for Hospice of the North Shore and received her MSN from Ohio State University and her MA from Loyola University in Health Care Ethics.

Smookler, board certified in internal and geriatric medicine, is the assistant medical director of hospice of the North Shore. He received his MD from Michigan State University and completed his residency at Evanston Hospital.

The 14-bed inpatient hospice unit was created last summer in conjunction with Evanston Hospitals Corporation, in order to meet the special needs of dying patients who are unable to receive care in their homes. The unit's warm, home-like atmosphere provides an ideal setting for patients who need a transition from the hospital to hospice care in the home; and for those whose physical and/or emotional needs in their final days require an inpatient hospice setting.

Program urges realistic approach to weight loss

You stepped on the scale this morning and realized that all those weight loss goals that you included in your New Year's resolutions were unrealistic. You are frustrated with the lack of progress in your weight loss program.

"You may want to rethink your expectations," commented Karen Demski, manager of the NutriQuest program offered by Condell's Medical Center Health Institute (MCHI) located in Centre Club, 200 W. Golf Rd., Libertyville.

"Every January and February, many magazines, newspapers, and supermarket tabloids are filled with claims of magic diet plans and quick fix weight loss strategies," said Demski, adding, "If you have set unachievable weight loss and exercise goals, revamp those resolutions. It's never too late to set a modest weight loss goal. For most people, a goal of no more than one-and-a-half to two pounds per week is realistic."

According to Demski, those dieters who set impossible weight loss, exercise, or nutritional goals often lose interest quickly when they are unable to achieve or maintain them. "When a person, for example, sets an unrealistic goal of exercising two hours a day, seven days a week, he or she will almost certainly encounter obstacles to achieving that goal."

She explains that missing a day or two of the goal makes it very easy to give up the whole idea of exercise and weight loss. An exercise goal, such as walking 30 minutes a day, three days a week may be more effective in the long run.

"Modest, achievable changes in nutritional habits, and a gradual implementation of regular exercise will result in the moderate weight reduction most people need after holiday overeating," Demski said. "People with chronic health conditions, such as diabetes, or those who desire to lose more than a few pounds of extra weight, should consult with their physician before undertaking any weight management program."

For more information on behavior modification, nutritional education and weight management, attend one of the free weight management orientation programs offered every Thursday at 7 p.m. at Centre Club, 300 W. Golf Rd., Libertyville. For reservations, call MCHI at 362-2905, ext. 5770.

The treatment, known as LAUP (Laser Assisted Uvula Palatoplasty and pronounced -layup) is performed to tighten up the palate, which decreases the snoring noise. The procedure is simple and is performed at the hospital on an outpatient basis.

Dr. Block will talk about this unique procedure during a community education program, "Snore No More," Feb. 22 from 7 to 9 p.m. in the hospital's Conference Center. Note: The Lake Forest Hospital Conference Center is now located in the lower level of the 900 Bays Medical Building.

Hypnotists raise money for charities

Last month, the Dreamweaver Hypnosis Center sponsored a weight loss clinic and a stop smoking clinic to help people with their New Year's Resolutions. During the workshops, participants underwent three separate hypnotic inductions and learned how to use self-hypnosis to successfully stop smoking or lose weight.

Each person was also given tools such as audiotapes and motivational worksheets to use at home. Hypnotherapists Geoff Akins and Dennis Kedzorski, and participants from both workshops, raised over a hundred dollars which was donated to The American Lung and Heart Associations. Akins and Kedzorski were so encouraged with the turnout that they have decided to make the clinics a monthly event.

The next Stop Smoking and Weight-Loss Classes will be on Sunday, March 10, at the Lake County Farm Bureau Building located at 70 S. Hwy. 45 in Grayslake. Tuition is $30, with part of the proceeds going to charity. For more information on how to register call 750-3410.

Be aware of tax law changes that could affect the bottom line

Each year, there are usually a few changes to the tax law that people need to know to file correct returns. Some could make a difference on whether a person gets a refund or owes more taxes.

Starting in 1995, the Internal Revenue Service requires a Social Security number (SSN) for each dependent, except for a child born in the last two months of 1995. No SSN, or an incorrect SSN, will delay any refund a person has coming. For working people who qualify for the earned income tax credit (EITC), the credit amount will increase in 1995. The amount a person can earn and still be eligible for the credit increases, too.

The EITC is now available to military personnel stationed outside the United States on extended active duty. To claim the credit, they must, of course, meet all the EITC requirements.

Household employers are people who hire someone, such as a babysitter, maid or gardener, to work at their homes. For 1995, household employers can report their employment taxes using a single form, new Schedule H, "Household Employment Taxes." Just attach the filled-in schedule to Form 1040 or 1040A.

Cash wages of $1,000 or more a year paid to a household worker are subject to Social Security and Medicare taxes. Schedule H is used to report these taxes, as well as federal unemployment tax and any federal income tax withheld from the worker's wages. However, wages paid to someone who is under age 18 at any time during the year are exempt from Social Security and Medicare taxes, unless the worker's principal job is to provide household services.

Household employers should check their withholding or estimated tax payments to make sure they will cover the amounts that may be due because of employment taxes. And don't forget to give workers with $1,000 or more in wages a Form W-2, "Wage and Tax Statement."

The 1995 standard mileage rate for using one's car for business is up a penny to 30 cents a mile. The special rate for rural mail carriers is up to 45 cents a mile.

The self-employed health insurance deduction that expired at the end of 1993 has been retroactively reinstated. Those who would have been entitled to the deduction in 1994 can file Form 1040X, "Amended U.S. Individual Income Tax Return," to claim it. And the maximum amount of this deduction has increased for 1995.

Also for 1995, people with unemployment compensation will be able to use Form 1040EZ, the simplest tax form.

Poet shares bright memories from a wealth of experiences

TINA L. SWIECH

Staff Reporter

Dr. Virginia Gilbert truly believes in the words of Robert Frost—"Poets are made, not paid."

Yet she continues to ride with her feelings and pen her phrases, her words upon paper not for money, but for personal satisfaction.

The Illinois native, born in Elgin and raised in Cary, announced her first full-length book of poems entitled "That Other Brightness."

Her book of 109 poems range from dreams, ideas and reality that lead her through childhood memories as well as time spent in the Republic of South Korea. While in Iran she was evacuated along with others during the Islamic revolution.

Gilbert has published other collections including "The Earth Above" 11 pages of work distributed in 1993 by Catamount Press. In 1986 her poetry pamphlet "To Keep at Bay the Hounds" was published by the Nebraska Poets' Association.

Gilbert lived in Ingleside with her parents for several years, and during the mid-1970s one summer she worked as an advertising representative for Lakeland Newspapers.

After traveling abroad with the Peace Corps, and teaching English in Iran, Gilbert returned to Lake County and taught English as a Second Language to students at the College of Lake County for a fall semester.

Currently she is an associate professor of English at the historically black college, Alabama A. & M. University.

The revered Hackney Award was presented to Gilbert as a second place winner in 1990. She received a grant from the National Endowment of the Arts and was chosen as first place poet in the Second Annual Sakura Fest Haiku Contest in 1992.

"That Other Brightness" was published by Black Star Press of Lincoln, Nebraska at the University of Nebraska. Gilbert's book is the first full-length book Black Star has published since beginning operation in 1992.

For the past two years Black Star has published a Nebraska calendar of poetry and drawings, and it has recently started a chapbook series.

Gilbert was in Illinois in late December visiting her mother Florence, a current resident of Ingleside. At that time she said she is hoping to have an anthology published for the 35th anniversary of the Peace Corps.

It would be a collection from her time spent there, which is slated to contain poetry plus photographs.

For information on obtaining one of her poetry books, contact Dr. Virginia Gilbert at (205) 851-5388 or the Alabama A. & M. University Public Relations Department at (205) 851-5654.

Lovable dog gives lessons on safety

McGruff the Crime Dog is doing his duty in Lake County. He dances and wags his tail to the music while explaining crime prevention and safety lessons in the entertaining manner which could only be the product of his two aliases, Deputy Sheriffs Kevin A. McHugh and Wendell D. Russell.

ELIZABETH EAKEN
Staff Reporter

They both chime in at the same time about the perks of the job. "I like the reward of seeing the reaction of the kids," Kevin said, and "the smiles on kids faces," Wendell added. They both said it sounds sort of corny but it's true.

McHugh said kids have great reactions to McGruff. "They feel as if McGruff is a real dog that can talk," he explained. "It's funny, kids really pay attention and listen to the message when its coming from McGruff," and that's the important thing, he said.

The two work as a team delivering McGruff's message to audiences throughout the county. The furry crime stopper who sports a ultra-fashionable pair of plaid pants and a Dick Tracy style trench coat, knows his stuff and delivers a targeted message with a smile to young and old.

"We did a presentation at Brae Loch Golf Course for mostly underprivileged kids put on by the Reserve Deputies of the Sheriff's Department,"

McHugh said. "It was a big success. McGruff was more popular than Santa that day and it was a Christmas party, so go figure."

McGruff the Crime Dog is a free program of the Lake County Sheriff's Department of Community Services. The McGruff program is a public education service developed by the National Crime Prevention Council and is presented by police departments and community service organizations throughout the United States.

McGruff has a wealth of information to present. Some of the topics aimed at younger children and teens focus on stranger danger, being streetwise, baby-sitting safety, being home alone, protecting yourself from crime and sexual abuse and assault. The topics can go on and on and include several for adults also. Examples of adult topics include travel safety, vehicle theft, rural crime and many more.

"Lately we've been doing elementary and preschool shows," explained McHugh. "We usually pick three topics, for example, stranger danger, traffic safety, bike and skateboard safety, or maybe respect for authority."

McGruff has a fairly easy job. All he has to do is dance around wearing the suit while a taped program illustrates the subject matter, but it can be unbearable inside the costume at times, especially during the dog days of summer.

"We let the public know we're available for shows, but McGruff might go to a colder climate for the summer," joked Russell about the suit which can be "cookin' in the heat. He explained it is only bearable for around 30 minutes. In addition to the McGruff head and costume the officer in the suit has to wear, underneath he sports his full uniform and a bulletproof vest.

"It's only time we can actually act as a fool," when they dress as McGruff, Russell said of the fun he and McHugh get from the act. One officer goes in uniform to introduce McGruff and explain things to the audience while the other wears the McGruff suit.

The suit is an elaborate mechanized set up which McHugh estimated costs well over $1,000. The head operates with a hidden control in the trench coat pocket. The person wearing the suit moves the control buttons to operate the taped program, move McGruff's nose and make his eyes blink.

McHugh said he and Russell both came to the public service department from highway patrol. They went through an application process which evaluated their people skills. It certainly must have been accurate because the two together are extremely entertaining.

They compared the differing types of police work they've done and what is attractive about the community service department.

"Some aspects of this are better. This is a different type of police work, meeting people in a different atmosphere and at a different end of the rope—you're not arresting them," McHugh said of his job.

"We do prevention," Russell said of the community service department. "We don't like fighting with the bad guy to take them to jail but sometimes it's what you have to do. Now were in the prevention mode and see people after the burglary has happened, in their home and teach them how to avoid that," he said as an example of how his job has changed.

For more information on the McGruff program or other community service programs sponsored by the Lake County Sheriff's Department call McHugh or Russell at 360-6300.

Alzheimer's Assn. offers jewelry for 'Safe Return'

The Greater Chicagoland Chapter, Alzheimer's Association is offering jewelry in conjunction with their Safe Return program.

The Safe Return program is a national registry that helps identify, locate and safely return individuals who are memory impaired and may wander as a result of Alzheimer's disease.

Registered patients are given a bracelet or necklace with an identification number and a toll-free number engraved on the back. Patient and caregiver information is entered in the registry. When the wanderer is found, the toll-free number is called, the information comes up on the computer and the caregiver is notified as to where his/her loved one is. Patient and caregiver information is not obtainable from the jewelry, and addresses remain confidential.

"The Safe Return program is the most modern way to find loved ones who have wandered and are unable to find their way home," said Diane Picard, program coordinator for the Greater Chicagoland Chapter. "The ability to safely return Alzheimer's patients home is dependent upon community members who are aware that this program exists."

The cost to register is $25 and it takes six weeks to receive the jewelry. The program offers three different designs of the bracelet or necklace.

Alzheimer's disease is a terminal, progressive, degenerative disease that attacks the brain and results in impaired thinking, memory and behavior. Approximately four million Americans are afflicted with the disease, making it the fourth leading cause of death among adults. There are more than 100,000

Alzheimer's patients locally and an additional four to five family members per patient affected in the role of caregiver.

The Greater Chicagoland Chapter, Alzheimer's Association is the central source for service, support and solutions for Alzheimer patients and their families.

Services provided by the Chapter include a network of family support groups, a helpline, The Alzheimer's Family Care Center, financial assistance for respite services, referrals to community resources and in-person assistance.

For more information about the Safe Return program and other services the Greater Chicagoland Chapter offers, call 933-2413.

So You Want Your Luggage To Arrive At The Same Airport You Do?

by JIM WARNKEN,
PRESIDENT, NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

There's the story of the guy who checks in at "Fly-by-Night" Airlines with three bags. He asks the clerk at the ticket counter to send one bag to Honolulu, another to New York and the third to Miami. The clerk informs the passenger that there is no way they could do this. The passenger replies, "Why not? You did it last week."

With the thousands of pieces of checked luggage passing through airports every day, it's inevitable that someone is going to be separated from their Samsonite. You can take some steps to reduce your chance of being the one having to find a new wardrobe in Jamaica.

Most luggage gets "lost" because the check-in clerk or skycap put the wrong airport tag on it. Learn the three-letter code for the airport to which you are flying. You can find it on your ticket or ask your travel agent. Some codes are obvious. "MIA" is Miami, "HNL" is Honolulu and "STL" is St. Louis. Others, such as "MCO" is Orlando, and "MCI" for Kansas City are not as apparent. Make sure the check-in clerk puts the tag with the correct code on your bag.

Remove all old airport tags from your luggage. If your suitcase still has the airport tag from your last trip to Rome and this one is to Maui, you may have a long wait for your bags to be delivered.

In addition to the required identification tag on the outside of your luggage, put an ID card in the bag. If your luggage tag is torn off during handling, the airline has no way of reuniting the lost bag and the owner unless there is some form of identification inside.

Finally, do something unique to your bag to identify it on the baggage carousel. More than once, someone has not realized they have taken the wrong bag until they get home and have to explain the women's dresses in their suitcase to their wife!

A Valentine for the Chicago Bulls

I don't know what it is. Maybe it's the red uniforms. Or the challenge of counting the tattoos on Dennis Rodman's bouncing body. Or the thrill of watching the "world's greatest basketball player," Michael Jordan, stick his tongue out night after night without once biting it off. I just don't know.

But whatever it is, I have become addicted to the Chicago Bulls. In the past six years, I have progressed from watching only the playoffs, to watching some of the games and all of the playoffs, to my current state of total addiction—I watch every game that I possibly can.

My husband thinks it's funny, as I sit in front of the TV, yelling at the referees or saying things like "Sa-wish, Michael!" or "Ring up another três for the Bulls!" When Dennis Rodman got a triple-double one night, I actually had to explain to my husband what that meant. Scary, isn't it?

And so, it seems only fitting that I dedicate this week's column as my personal Valentine to those high-flying men in red, the Chicago Bulls (by the way, this poem can also be sung to the tune of "Oh, I Wish I Were An Oscar Mayer Wiener"):

While the Bears, the Cubs, and Sox are nothing special,

Scottie Pippen's really got his act together,

He's now the star he should have been befo-o-re,

The other teams don't stand much chance of winning.

With Scott and Mike and Dennis on the floor.

While the Bulls have one impressive starting

DONNA ABEAR

At least that is the way it seems to me-e-e,

The Bulls are kicking butt most every evening,

Everywhere from sea to shining sea.

Oh, I love to watch his Airness stick that tongue out,

As he jumps and flies into the sky-y-y,

Mike, I hope you've learned your lesson shooting free throws,

Even you can't make them when you close your eyes.

Dennis Rodman should be playing in the All-Stars,

They snubbed him and it doesn't seem quite fa-a-air,

Could the reason be that Rodman stripped for Playboy,

And showed the whole free world his derriere.

lineup

The talent doesn't end at only fi-i-ive,

From the bench comes Steve and Bill and Tony Kukoc,

Who come out cold, yet keep the game alive.

Yes, the Bulls are really killing 'em this season,

Winning 41 and losing three-e-e,

I'll be rooting for them right on through the playoffs,

But win or lose, they're still the best to me.

Oh, I wish I had a ticket for a Bulls game,

That is where I'd really like to be-e-e

Cause if I had a ticket for a Bulls game,

They would win the rest (I guarantee!)

Yacht-Sea's doesn't play games

Yacht-Sea's in Fox Lake has been very busy working on the acoustics to improve the sound quality of their club. Under the guidance of one of the best sound engineers around, Don Schramm's carefully selected and planned acoustic materials have been installed. As a musician myself, I would like to commend the owners of Yacht-Sea's for sharing the responsibility of good sound quality for the audience with the bands that play there. I had the opportunity to sneak preview the changes. You're going to love it! Good job, Don!

Water under Bridges winds up wet, wild

The film "White Squall" is a thinner version of TV's "White Ghost," or the big screen's "Dead Poet's Society," wherein young men are permanently touched by an older teacher, coach, or some other form of male guidance.

Here we have the youthful and innocent vigor of the Kennedy era bursting in all its glory in the true story of 13 healthy, preppy 1960-ish teenage males setting sail on a 12,000-mile nautical adventure under skipper Jeff Bridges.

Scott Wolf, who plays Bailey in TV's critically acclaimed Golden Globe winner "Party of Five," is one of the teen crew members and also the seaventure's most able narrator.

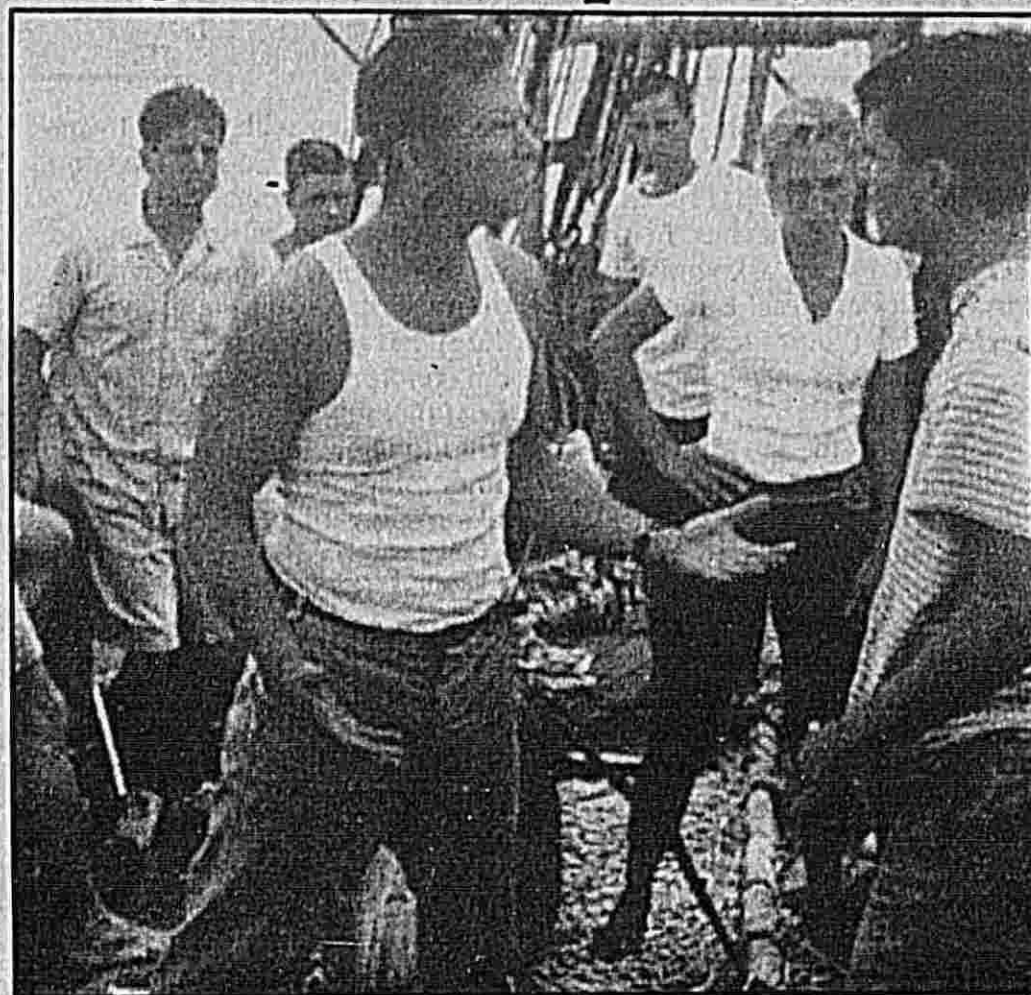

The seascape photography is often breathtaking as the young men face personal challenges and do a lot of male bonding only to discover certain weaknesses in that bond, especially when they encounter the tragic and devastating ocean storm, a white squall, one of the worst and most freakish of all storms at sea.

The beautiful seascapes, the handsome young men and the special effects, especially the creating of the squall itself, make for an interesting film, but not an arresting or great one.

Somehow, though taken from real life, the maturing of the young men seems more fictional than if we were reading "The Sea Wolf," etc.

"Squall" creator Ridley Scott seems to be more enamored with painting pretty pictures and people with his camera than delving deep enough into their personalities to see and feel what makes them tick.

Although Bridges turns in his usual creditable performance as the skipper of the aptly named two-master, The Albatross, neither he nor his wife, played by Caroline Goodall, are given the chance to reveal themselves to the audience.

'Tis pretty to see, but alas, only seafoam deep, and we find ourselves caring more about the fate of the graceful sailing vessel than the crew since "we hardly knew ye!"

As sea adventures go, "White Squall," rated PG-13, sets an exciting though shallow sail, so we give this family film three out of five stars. —by GLORIA DAVIS

GET IT OFF YOUR CHEST (847) 223-8073

Lakeland
Newspapers

Lipservice is a phone-in column presented as a feature of Lakeland Newspapers. Lakeland Newspapers makes no claim to the authenticity of the statements. Lakeland Newspapers does not claim the content or the subject matter as fact, but as the personal opinion of the caller. Lakeland Newspapers reserves the right to edit copy or to refrain from printing a message. Call in at 223-8073 and leave your message 24-hours a day. Although the call is anonymous, please leave your village name.

All talk

I had to laugh when I saw a recent article in another paper where Jim Fields, the township supervisor of Antioch was quoted, "I have never refused to cooperate with any subdivision and always help any homeowner's group." If this is true, how come he's not helping us with the power line issue? He's not once written a letter stating we want a public hearing. He's all talk and no action and he should step down.

Blame parents

I live in Antioch and have children at the high school. I'm calling in response to the alarm clock comments. Here we go, again, where we expect the administrations of schools to discipline our kids. They say parents, wake up, the administration is failing on a monthly basis, and that chronically tardy students need to be dealt with in other ways besides expulsion. Let me tell you, it's the parents of these kids that need to wake them up and make sure they go to school, not the administration. Get real and put the blame where it belongs. My taxes should go for education, not for babysitting for parents that don't have enough responsibility to get their kids out of bed.

Big egos

This is in response to the call about the Lake Zurich school district 95 doing their own video. I think it should be titled, "Lake County's Funniest Video." They should focus their efforts on educating our children and not inflating their own egos. Don't they realize that there are school report cards out there for people to view when they're relocating to a new area? Focus on things to benefit our children, not yourselves!

Need tower

The people that want to stop the water tower from being built on Hart Hill must be out of their mind. We need the tower there. Round Lake area is a growing community, this isn't the country anymore. Our community has needs and our elected officials have the responsibility to keep costs down. It's as simple as that.

Confused

Terry Link's opponent for the Senate seat in the 30th Legislative District is apparently confused. He claims to be familiar with Lake County, however his knowledge is OBVIOUSLY limited. If you "hop on" the CTA in Chicago, you must hop off in Chicago as well. Sorry, Larry, the CTA (the Chicago Transit Authority) does not run in Lake County!

Nobody's friend

I thought this might be a good response to some of the items I've been reading in Lipservice lately: "Nobody's Friend: My name is Gossip. I have no respect for justice. I maim without killing. I break hearts and ruin lives. I am cunning and malicious and gather strength with age. The more I am quoted, the more I am believed. My victims are helpless. They cannot protect themselves against me, because I have no name and no face. To track me down is impossible. The harder you try, the more elusive I become. I am nobody's friend. Once I tarnish a reputation, it is never the same. I topple governments and wreck marriages. I ruin careers and cause sleepless nights, heartaches and indignation.

I make innocent people cry in their pillows. Even my name hisses. I am called Gossip. I make headlines and headaches. Before you repeat a story, ask yourself: Is it true? Is it harmless? Is it necessary? If it isn't, don't repeat it."

Role models

In response to the Jan. 26 comment, the real priority in Lake Villa and the beer truck outside the fire station, I'd like to inform the public that it's not only important that the firemen get to the fire, it's that they shouldn't be intoxicated while getting to the fire. They are role models and I'd hate to see them being intoxicated when they go on calls to save lives and property. I think they do a good job, but I'd like to know why the beer truck was there.

Been there

I have a great deal of sympathy for the people that live in the area where the deadly accident occurred in Gurnee. Several years ago, living on a rural road that became busier with traffic, I was told by the Lake County Division of Transportation that the only way to get a speed limit changed is if a school is within a certain distance. It doesn't matter what the speed limit is in this case, as the children were negligent in not wearing their seat belts. Unfortunately, it's nice to blame other things, but we all have to take responsibility for ourselves.

Don't assume I'm from Antioch. Please don't assume all seniors over 78 years old are senile. Even the judges in the court feel this way. I've been through it and I'm still heartbroken.

Need more info

I live in Round Lake Beach and I'm new to the area. Can anyone provide more information on the so-called Spandex Woman? Where does she live or hang out? I have small children. Also, why do people keep giving the animal abuser such attention?

No comparison

This is in response to the person comparing Sunrise Drive to Sesame Street. Sesame Street teaches children to love and respect each other. You are teaching your children to hate. Maybe you should stop watching TV and get a life.

Plenty of us

This is about the idiot cartoon on the Jan. 26 Antioch News-Reporter stating there's no Democrats in Lake County. There's plenty of us out here and more are moving here every day.

Lead, don't follow

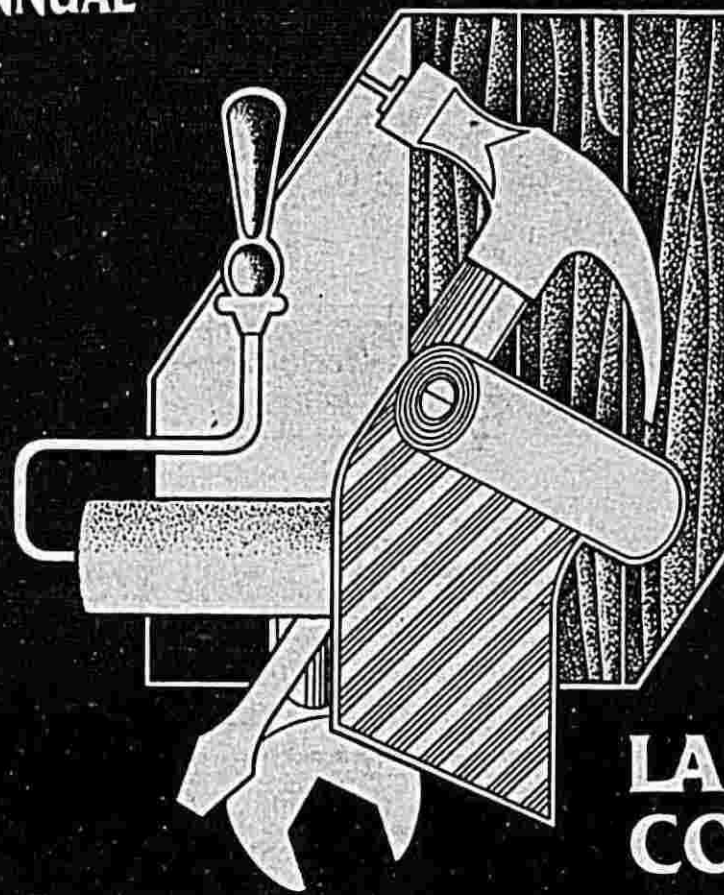

This is to Gina Miosi of the village board of Round Lake Beach. You should be ashamed of yourself. Instead of staying neutral in the problem of Country Walk subdivision, you have proved to be a follower instead of a leader. You've surprised and disappointed many with your actions. I guess you forgot about rescuing the Beach! See LIPSERVICE page B17

THE CHICAGO AREA TRANSPORTATION STUDY ANNOUNCES THE RELEASE OF THE PROPOSED TRANSPORTATION IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM FOR FY 1996-2000 FOR PUBLIC REVIEW AND COMMENT

The Transportation Improvement Program (TIP) is a five-year agenda of surface transportation projects for northeastern Illinois. The TIP includes capital projects for which federal money is sought, federal operating assistance, and regionally significant, non-federally funded projects planned for implementation in the next five years. Documentation of the TIP conformity analysis is also available.

A public open house will be held at the offices of the Chicago Area Transportation Study on February 27 between 1:00 p.m. and 4:30 p.m. to discuss the proposed TIP and conformity analysis. The public comment period begins February 13 and will continue until 4:30 p.m., March 13. Your written comments can be mailed, faxed, or delivered to the address below. Responses must arrive by 4:30 p.m., March 13, 1996.

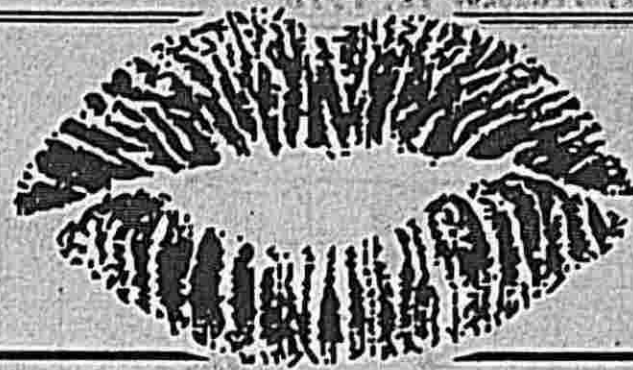

If you would like to receive a copy of the proposed TIP and/or conformity analysis documentation, please contact the Communication Division at 312/793-3460.

Move to Indy

To respond to "Quick driving tips," this is a person who drives down Rollins Road like he's got a firecracker up his butt. Maybe you should spend some money on a rocket pack if you've got to get somewhere that fast. I don't have to take your abuse. I'm a veteran and I've lived in Hainesville all my life. If you want to drive so fast, move to Indianapolis and drive the 500, you punk!

Get a life

This message is for "I love Sunrise Drive" neighbors. I live in Country Walk and would like to know when you're going to take responsibility for your actions. We all know about how your dog bit one of the children on the block. You act like it's the child's fault and instead of being loving, trusting neighbors, you turn your back on this poor child. I know one thing for sure, if your dog ever bites my child and you act like you've been acting, you can say goodbye to your house, your life's savings, and your crayons. Get a life!

Leave nature alone

I'm calling from northern Lake County in response to "Coyotes essential" and "Does society care?" Barrington destroys coyotes, Antioch kills beavers, and a nut in Round Lake throws cats out windows. And humans are of superior intelligence? We as a human race are selfish, destructive and wasteful. We kill every time something is in our way. If we leave nature alone, it takes care of itself and of us. As for people caring more about animals than children, one doesn't have to choose one over the other. A truly responsible, caring person cares for all living things and raises their children to do so. Society is judged by how it treats each other. We need to treat others the way we want to be treated.

Clarification

This is in regard to the Lipservice comment on clarification regarding Maryann Amann living on property in Lake County for 20 years. That is correct. The article was supposed to say it was my neighbors who've lived there for 20 years. The point is, it doesn't matter if I've lived there two or 20 years, I purchased the rights to the road and Penguin has to deal with that. No road, no sewers. No sewers, no development.

Dig deep

Well, Antioch High School, you did it again. Spending money like water, benefiting yourself whenever possible and letting the students freeze to death. Great way to make room when you don't get your referendums passed. All schools around us were closed on Feb. 2 while the high school remained open, even though Laidlaw buses were running later than usual. Notice that if in the future you ask for another referendum, we the people will once again cut it down. You want money? Dig deep, baby. Make some personal cuts.

We salute you

I want to thank the Lake County Task Force and MEG, who raided the crack house and drug den in Lotus Woods last week. You did a wonderful job and restored our faith in the police department. This house was operating in the open in front of school children next to a school bus stop. A bad element of people were coming here to buy drugs. The hardworking, law abiding citizens who live here salute you. Keep up the good work!

Round Lake loses

I live in Round Lake Park. In last week's paper you put that Charlene Beyer had put Pat McCloskey into the County Board race. Actually, Bob Depke and Carl Schrimp pull her strings. She's just a puppet. Now with Pat McCloskey, she'll have a puppet too. And Round Lake will be the loser once again.

Make 'em wait

First I want to say my heart goes out to the family and friends of those involved in the accident in Gurnee. We do not allow our children to do a simple thing like voting until they are 18, but we put them behind the wheel of a car at 16. Sorry, kids, I am only thinking of you. As you read this, think of your friends and yourself. It's wonderful to think of the upcoming summer and what a wonderful time you'll have, or even of this weekend. Also think how many of you will still be alive next Christmas. I know there weren't any alcohol or drugs involved in this accident, but think how many in the whole country could be saved if 16-year-olds can't get licenses until they're 18. That would be a whole heck of a lot of people.

Shame on Leno

I'm calling from Mundelein. Shame on Jay Leno of The Tonight Show for using President Clinton as the butt of his jokes. The other night, the joke went like this: A federal male employee is wanted for asking females to expose their breasts for his inspection. Then (the butt of the joke) he shows a picture of our president. Jay Leno is desperate when he has to use our president for his vile jokes. He's lost me as a viewer. Thank God for Lipservice.

Stop Depke

Halt off to Judy Martini of our County Board, for opposing Bob Depke, County Board chairman, in his wild spending habits. The latest is for $104,000 to a Chicago company to design a county seal. Thanks, Judy, we need more like you on the board. As for the seal cost, why hasn't there been a public outcry? Why haven't our clergymen protested from the pulpit? Can you imagine how much food and clothing $104,000 can buy for the poor and hungry in Lake County? Bob Depke and his people should be stopped.

More distrust

It's no wonder people don't trust attorneys. I hired an attorney in a wrongful death suit. After months of doing nothing for my case, I found out my attorney's wife is a physician, who works for the hospital I'm suing. When I confronted him, he admitted not telling me about his wife and it's likely my suit will lose. Now I suppose the attorney will represent the hospital, since he has all of my scoop. Shame on him!

Blame the greedy

Developers versus conservation has been a push and shove, give and take situation, where the nature of things is losing ground. The natural world has become endangered and nonexistent since the entrance of man. So, therefore, man must be responsible for the destruction of nature. As I see it, the blame lies on those associated with new real estate developments, commercial or residential. These greedy individuals and companies make all the money they can and leave the area when there's no more land left. The amazing thing is, most of the pillagers and plunderers live in nice, wooded areas on the outskirts of other towns. People should put pressure on local government to make these people accountable for their destruction.

Great talent

I attended the Jan. 31 variety show at Grant High School. For all the work and effort that went into it, it was really enjoyable. Students put a lot of time and effort into it. They seemed to have a lot of fun. There's a lot of talent there. For $5, it was a good night. I'm looking forward to seeing more things in the future.

Move out

Gavin South School needs space for those who are in our school to service the students. The speech pathologists, behavior specialists, and many others are always scrambling for space to work with our kids. When Dr. Maloney and other business staff move out, it will be to the benefit of our students, not just the superintendent.

Patience a virtue

This is a reply to the "Quick driving tips," about people who drive slower than the speed limit. The person who made these comments doesn't realize the speed limit is the maximum number. There's no law against going under the speed limit. The people who get impatient because a person isn't doing the speed limit are generally the ones who are involved in the accidents. I've been involved in law enforcement for over 20 years. Nearly every accident I ever investigated was caused by ill-considered thought or impatience on one driver or the other.

Pets need perks

This is in regard to "Does society care," in the Feb. 2 Lipservice column. I don't know what the Jan. 26 comments were, but from the looks of things, you're totally against animal welfare, and animal rights and all for people. With over 100 million dogs and cats as pets in this country alone, I think they do need a few extra perks. They do have rights and should have some health benefits when it comes to abuse. I think any abuse given to humans or animals should be looked upon in the strictest of ways. People should understand we're all sharing this planet together and should live in peace.

Horoscope

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You are in line for a new opportunity. However, this comes to you from a distance. In general, you have a stress-free week. Later in the week, enjoy romance and recreational interests. However, take some time for meditation.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Be on the alert now for a chance to improve your career situation. Early in the week, you get a nice jump-start on a project. However, this requires the cooperation of others, so actively seek this out.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) You feel especially confident this week and are willing to tackle even the hardest of tasks. Big-wigs admire your enthusiasm and take note. Exercising initiative opens important financial and business doors. Much progress is made.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Early in the week, don't allow a difference of opinion with a loved one to cause you to be overly critical and intolerant. Later in the week, the emphasis is happily on social life and romance. The weekend brings family harmony.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) There is travel in the stars for you, but it is mostly local. Those dreaming of far-away locales must bide their time for now. Improved concentration leads to mental achievements on the job. The weekend is great for visiting friends.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) A partnership matter is happily resolved early in the week. This leaves you free to get on with the business at hand. Advice you seek now is not forthcoming, so rely on your own instincts instead. Education is accented.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) As the week dawns, you are able to reach a better understanding with someone who's been in disagreement with you. You're likely to be busy this week with home-related tasks, although business interests are favored as well.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) You are able this week to see the larger picture. However, don't allow a detail you consider insignificant to hamper your vision. Travel for pleasure is possible for singles, with a romantic overtone in the mix.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) The accent early in the week is on domestic interests. Later, however, you spend some time out and about socializing and enjoying good times. This weekend, some move closer to making a romantic commitment.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) News you receive early in the week has huge import for your future. You have a renewed incentive now to get ahead in life. Toward that end, a new opportunity is challenging, but you meet it head-on.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) It will be a busy time socially for you all week, but particularly so as you head toward the weekend. Partnership interests are also happily emphasized. Use understanding when dealing with a child's problems.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Romance is favored early in the week, but keep this confidential. Later, you devote attention to a do-it-yourself project or household concerns. The weekend brings a financial opportunity.

Moody Chorale to perform in Antioch

The Moody Chorale

The Moody Chorale, conducted by Gerald Edmonds of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago, will sing Sunday, Feb. 18, at 6 p.m. at Chain of Lakes Community Bible Church, 23201 W. Grass Lake Rd., Antioch.

Founded in 1946, the Moody Chorale has long been established as one of the leading collegiate choral organizations in the United States specializing in sacred music. The repertoire includes a broad range of music chosen from all periods of music history. The Chorale tours the United States twice each year as well as occasional overseas tours. The group has ministered in Great Britain, Western Europe, Australia, Eastern Europe, including the former Soviet Union, and the Far East. During the summer of 1996, to commemorate the Chorale's 50th anniversary, the group will tour Great Britain. Membership in the Chorale is open to qualified undergraduate students upon audition.

Gerald H. Edmonds, conductor, is a graduate of Moody Bible Institute, and holds the B. Mus. and M. Mus. degrees in composition from the American Conservatory of Music. Joining the MBI faculty in 1969, he organized the Moody Concert Band in 1970 and conducted it until 1978 when he was appointed conductor of the Chorale. As Professor of Sacred Music, Edmonds currently teaches choral conducting, church music courses, and coordinates the combined ministries of the touring groups. He is also Minister of Music at Moody Memorial Church in Chicago.

Enjoy Chinese food at Yan's Hunan Inn

Yan's Hunan Inn is "the" place to go when you are craving Chinese food in Lake County. Luncheon specials, family dinners, combination plates, and formal entrees combine to make a veritable feast for diners.

Lunch begins at 11 a.m. at Yan's Hunan Inn. The restaurants boast 20 specials. All specials include a choice of hot and sour, wonton, or egg drop soup, and are served with white rice. Combination plates feature a choice of soup, and are served with fried rice and an egg roll.

There is a huge selection of dinner delights to choose from. Several of the dishes are hot and spicy, but Yan's Hunan Inn will alter the spice according to your taste. House dinners cost $15.95 per person and include a glass of house wine, soup, an appetizer, a choice from 13 main entrees, and dessert.

The sliced beef with scallions is delicious, as is the flowery chicken. Some of the spicy dishes include sliced prawns with garlic sauce, the Hunan beef, lamb with spicy and tangy sauce, and General Ching's chicken. For dessert, try the stuffed honey banana that comes with the meal.

Families are not left out at Yan's Hunan Inn. This great bargain costs $11 per person and includes from one to three main course selections with many sides. Families are offered a choice of soup, appetizers, and for dessert, an almond cookie.

Yan's has a number of house specialties priced from $7.95 to $15.95. The "Sizzling Three Musketeers" includes fresh scallops, sliced prawns and beef served with assorted vegetables prepared in the chef's special sauce and served on a hot plate. The house special beef, one of the spicier selections, is deep fried tender sliced beef that is crispy on the outside and tender in the middle. The beef is sautéed with orange peels, and has a sweet and spicy flavor.

The restaurant also offers more traditional Chinese fare including chow mein, chop suey, egg foo young, lo mein, fried rice, and vegetable dishes. Other favorites include sweet and sour chicken, seafood dishes, pork dishes, and beef and lamb selections.

Yan's Hunan Inn has two locations at 100 N. Milwaukee Avenue in Libertyville (816-6988) and at 911 Lakehurst Road in Waukegan (473-1660). The hours for both locations are 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. Sunday through Thursday and 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. on Friday and Saturday.

Summit: Qualified workers are key to economic success

SUZIE REED

Staff Reporter

Cooperation between schools and businesses to ensure a steady supply of qualified workers has gained national attention. The Lake County Economic Development Commission works to encourage such partnerships and provides support in those efforts.

The commission will sponsor the Second Annual Educational Summit with Kemper National Insurance Company. "Skill Standards: Benchmarks of Excellence" will be held at Building 3 at the Kemper facility on Old McHenry Rd. in Long Grove March 5 from 7:30 a.m. to noon. The conference will offer a number of roundtable discussion opportunities.

This second summit will build upon last year's forum that focused on work force readiness, said Warren Wood, senior planner for the Lake County Economic Development Commission.

"The first summit laid the foundation stones by providing Lake County business people and educators a forum in which they could get together to explore ways to work together to achieve a common goal which is work force readiness, Wood explained. "That, in turn, is a key factor in economic security both for individuals and businesses."

Workers who have the knowledge, skills and ability to obtain good jobs are valuable in attracting and retaining businesses in Lake County, he said. In employer surveys, the number one concern is the quality and availability of the labor force.

"The second educational summit builds upon that," Wood explained. "There are many broad areas in which schools and business can cooperate ... and half a dozen levels of involvement.

"The fundamental question is 'how can we bridge the gap between the level of skills and the kinds of skills of the members of both the current and future work force?'"

Skills standards are a "hot" topic this year, he noted. The December cover story in the "Atlantic Monthly" explored the theme of setting national and state standards for public schools with "What Should Children Learn?" President Bill Clinton issued challenges in his 1996 State of the Union message for goals in education.

Keynote speakers at the summit include James Van Erden, who spearheaded the development of the National Skills Standards Board, and Jim Schultz, director of employee development for the Walgreens corporation. Van Erden will provide a definition of skills standards. Schultz, who serves as chairman of the Illinois Occupational Skill Standards and Credentialing Council will discuss their vision and progress.

Participants may choose to join two discussion groups during the morning. Subjects include: health care, service industries, manufacturing, translating skills standards into the classroom, the role of the unions, basic skills for current employees, special needs and work force readiness.

Roundtable discussions are scheduled from 9:10 to 10 a.m., and 10:10 to 1 a.m. A closing session will feature a panel discussion on "Where Do We Go From Here?" There is no cost to attend the summit. Attendance is limited to 275; 250 people participated in 1995. Reservations must be in by Feb. 21; for information call 360-6350.

Calabrese leads fight for liability reform

SUZIE REED

Staff Reporter

The Grieve Corporation makes products that last, but that is not always a positive challenge, said company president Pat Calabrese.

The Round Lake firm has manufactured industrial ovens and furnaces for 48 years. Their steel-insulated products are made to last a lifetime and are sold and resold as used equipment.

"Instruction books get lost; warning labels get misplaced," Calabrese explained. "Some things get in applications that were never intended."

Often, the new owners make modifications to the equipment. If the product is involved in an industrial accident, the original manufacturer ends up in court.

"We are held responsible for anything we make, no matter how it's being used," said Calabrese. "It's ludicrous."

He cited a case in which Grieve sold a piece of new equipment in 1972. It later appeared in the marketplace as used equipment, when the purchaser stripped it to the shell and put all new parts on it. When the machinery malfunctioned, Grieve spent $156,000 before the case was dismissed, said Calabrese.

"I see no reason for Grieve to be involved. We are held responsible, no matter how it is being used," he said. "All they have to do is allege. Trial lawyers are very strong politically."

The company has never lost a product liability suit, he said, because they maintain credible records. He is not trying to protect people who make shoddy equipment, he said, because manufacturers should be responsible for their products. He objects to the time and effort required for defense.

"Nothing justifies this," said Calabrese. "All we're doing is paying lawyers."

Calabrese has been fighting for reform in liability standards, traveling to Springfield and to Washington, D.C., and talking to legislators.

"They say they understand but they don't do anything," he said.

He is also working with the Illinois Manufacturers Association in an effort to get support for liability reform.

Corporate downsizing causes shift in home-buying patterns

While home buying remained strong during 1995, corporate downsizing clearly took a toll on who was doing the buying nationwide, according to the 20th annual Chicago Title and Trust Family of Title Insurers' survey, "Who's Buying Homes in America."

Home buyers with incomes between $41,000 and $60,000 declined significantly in 1995 to 27.2 percent of all home buyers, the lowest share since that portion of the survey began in 1985. As recently as 1993, the percentage of middle-income home buyers was 33.4 percent, which has been more typical of this income category throughout the survey's 20 years.

"What's happening in the nation's largest markets is that lost sales to middle income buyers are being offset statistically by sales to singles and families earning less than $40,000. In general, both groups pay less for housing," said Pfister, Chicago Title and Trust's vice president of Marketing Research. "This development appeared to stifle average and median home-price gains in the 18 markets surveyed by the Chicago Title and Trust Family of Trust Insurers. In comparison to 1994, the average home price rose only 1.6 percent from $145,000 to $147,000, and the median home price edged up 1.7 percent to $180,200 from $177,200," said Pfister.

In recent years, the trend has been for first time buyers to make up an increasingly larger share of the market. "Although first-timers have significantly increased their share of the market," said Pfister, "the actual number of first-time buyers entering the market is probably not growing any faster than before. What's happening is that the number of repeat buyers is shrinking, most significantly among middle-income buyers." In the years since 1992, first-time home buyers have accounted for about 47 percent of sales in Chicago Title and Trust's survey markets. In contrast, first time buyers represented only about 47 percent of sales in Chicago Title and Trust's survey markets. In contrast, first-time buyers represented only about 40 percent of sales in the 1980s.

Another shift evident in Chicago Title and Trust's data in recent years is a narrowing income gap between those who buy homes and those who do not. During the early years of the survey, the gap grew wider each year. In 1991, for example, 66 percent of home buyers had family incomes of $50,000 or more. This percentage has been steadily dropping to 56.7 percent in 1993, then 54.2 percent in 1995.

"At least two factors appear to be driving this change," said Pfister. "First, senior citizens are playing a bigger role in the nation's home sales, as they move to smaller or retirement homes in less costly markets. Second, the data suggest that more buyers with relatively lower household incomes are finding their way into the housing market than in years past. For example, buyers with incomes of less than $30,000 in 1991 represented only 8.3 percent of home sales, while today that number has nearly doubled, rising to 14.9 percent in 1995."

This way to wealth It's not too late for tax planning

DAVID FERST

Many small business owners will pay too much money in income taxes to the Internal Revenue Service for the 1995 calendar year.

Is it too late for them to take steps to reduce their tax liability? Not if they are willing to consider a SEP-IRA, Simplified Employee Pension-IRA, for their company as a means to convert tax outlays to retirement savings.

A business with less than 25 employees and no employee retirement plan is a good candidate for this type of retirement plan. Especially if the firm made a good profit in 1995 and faces a substantial income tax.

SEP-IRAs are subject to the same rules as an individual IRA relative to their initiation and contributions. Any employer can still start this type of plan prior to the firm's tax filing date and reduce the firm's 1995 taxes.

Example: Last year, the owner of Scrap Iron, Inc. earned $150,000 and his four employees each earned $35,000. Under a SEP-IRA, the owner decides to contribute 15 percent of the total employee's compensation ($250,000) integrated to the maximum social security taxable wage base. This results in a contribution of $37,500 to the SEP-IRA with a tax saving of $13,125 (marginal tax bracket of 35 percent from the firm's 1995 income taxes).

The $37,500 contribution is divided into separate IRA accounts for each employee. In this case, the employee/owner is credited with approximately $24,500 and each employee is credited with $3,250. The owner has converted the firm's tax liability of $13,125 to an employee benefit of $13,000 at minimal cost to the firm. The business owner could have simply bonused $37,500 to himself; however, the SEP-IRA retains more dollars in their name if their marginal tax bracket is higher than 35 percent.

Three other advantages of the SEP-IRA should be highlighted: (a) the maximum, annual contribution is $30,000 as compared to $2,000 for an individual IRA; (b) if your spouse is covered under an employee retirement plan, the deductibility of your SEP-IRA contributions are not restricted like an individual IRA; and (c) SEP-IRA plans are easy and inexpensive to maintain.

SEP-IRAs are not as flexible as other types of employer-sponsored retirement plans in terms of contributions, vesting, and other plan features; however, for many small employees they offer a simple and affordable means of providing retirement benefits—for their employees and themselves.

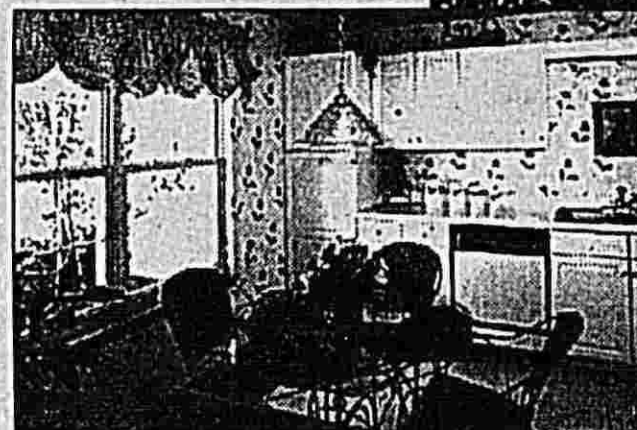

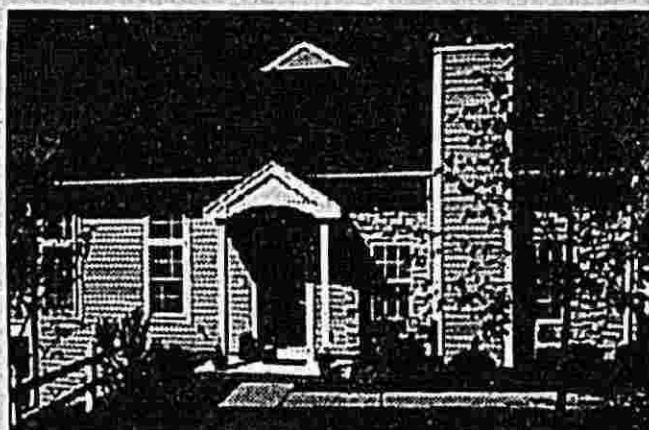

Since many small firms report their taxes on a calendar year basis, they have until March 15 of this year (unless extended) to initiate a SEP-IRA for 1995.

When evaluating these plans for potential clients, other factors must be reviewed to determine their suitability for their firm.

How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

Q: Dear...Search: I am having a hard time dealing with a situation that I have recently found myself up against. I went to work for a company in April that started me at $21,000 per year. My former job that I lost due to layoffs had me at a $23,000 per year salary and I was willing to accept a cut in pay because I was promised a review in July. My review has come and I received my raise as promised;
however, I decided I really needed more money and asked for a bit more stating I had the opportunity to interview with the "competition" (so to speak) for a higher salary. I received only the amount of money that had been promised. Shortly afterward I interviewed with that company and was offered a position with a starting salary in the high 20's. The drive was a lot farther, but the money was what I needed so I forged ahead. I gave a few days notice to my employer and started my new job that lasted for two days before I realized that I had made a mistake. This company was way behind in their bills so much so, that I spent the first half of my first day answering the phone calls of irate individuals. By the third day I realized while fighting traffic and dreading to go into the office that I had to do something. I contacted the employer I just left days before to ask for my job back. I spoke to my division manager who was very short with me and said to contact personnel as it was not his decision to make. I called Personnel who said they would look into it and get back to me. Three days had passed when I received a call with the knowledge that the company would not be accepting me back due to corporate policies. That makes no sense since they spent over three months training me for that position that I knew well. Why wouldn't the company jump at the chance to have me back rather than having to form another search for someone to fill the position I already know? Sign me...Stuck.

A: Dear Stuck, Why wouldn't the company accept you back? Let me count the reasons: Lack of loyalty, integrity, dedication, ethics, greed...shall I stop? You left a company without ample notice leaving the company in a lurch, you went to work for the competition and rubbed it in their faces, you failed to look into the company background, thereby finding out the hard way that you were in a losing situation, and then when you were finished exploring, had the guts to ask them for your job back. I cannot think of any company that would want to take back an employee in a situation like this. Most good corporations have a "no deposit, no return" clause when there is employee terminations of this sort. The old saying that if it seems too good to be true it probably is...definitely holds true here. You were quick to jump ship with employer one, be sure that the reason you are quick to jump off number two is viable. Good luck!

Easing Your Tax Burden

Some good things in life really are free

Robert W. Brock

IRS District Director

Do you need answers to tax questions? The Internal Revenue Service has several free tax assistance sources you can use when looking for tax help.

First, your at-home source is the tax package you received in the mail. Very often, you'll be able to answer most tax questions just by reading the instructions to the tax forms. Your tax package also tells you how to order IRS forms and publications, and the toll-free numbers to call for additional help.

If you are looking for general information on a tax topic, call our Tele-Tax phone line—any time, 24 hours a day, seven days a week—to hear pre-recorded tax messages on over 140 tax topics. Call toll-free 1-800-829-4477 to get information on everything from IRS procedures, to filing requirements and tax credits, to electronic filing. A listing of Tele-Tax topics can be found in your tax package.

Later in the filing season, you can call the same Tele-Tax number to get automated refund information. You should wait six to eight weeks from the time you file your tax return before calling to check on your refund. Refund information is updated weekly, so don't call more than once a week.

For personal assistance, you can call toll-free 1-800-829-1040, Monday through Friday from 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Millions of other people are trying to call this number, so here's a tip to help you avoid hearing that dreaded busy signal. Don't call during peak business hours. Instead, call either early in the morning or late in the day. And try later in the week—Wednesday, Thursday or Friday.

Tax assistance is available in our offices that have walk-in service. IRS employees can answer tax questions, help with IRS notices and bills, and provide forms and publication. They can also explain alternative payment plans for taxpayers who are unable to pay their taxes in full.

Free help with basic tax return preparation is also available in many Illinois communities. IRS trained volunteers offer assistance to lower income and elderly taxpayers through our VITA (Volunteer Income Tax Assistance) and TCE (Tax Counseling for the Elderly) programs. Some sites also offer free electronic filing. Check your local newspaper to find the site nearest you.

Hearing impaired taxpayers who have access to TDD equipment can get tax help by calling the IRS toll-free at 1-800-829-4059, Monday through Friday during normal business hours.

Finally, if you need additional tax forms, you can pick up many of the standard forms at post offices and libraries. IRS tax forms and publications can also be ordered by calling toll-free 1-800-829-3676, Monday through Friday between 7:30 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. If you have trouble reading fine print, you can order large-print forms and instructions. You should receive your order or notification of its status within seven to 15 workdays after your call.

Most IRS forms and publications are also available from FedWorld (a government bulletin board) through IRIS, the Internal Revenue Information System. If you have a personal computer and a modem, you can access IRIS directly by calling (703)321-8020. On the Internet, telnet to fedworld.gov, or for file transfer protocol services connect to ftp.fedworld.gov. Using the World Wide Web, connect to <http://www.ustreas.gov/treasury/bureau/irs>. FedWorld's help desk offers technical assistance on accessing IRIS (not tax help) during regular business hours at (703)487-4608.

Remember, all of this information is in the tax package you received in the mail. Check it out.

Wannstedt's five-year plan takes Bears to Superbowl in '98

RHONDA HETRICK BURKE

Editor in Chief

The University of Pennsylvania.
The University of Southern California.
The Dallas Cowboys.

Each of these teams went on to be conference champions within five years with Dave Wannstedt on the coaching staff.

Former Chicago Bear and radio personality Doug Buffone predicts the easy-going coach will bring the Bears to championship in his fifth year with the team. That would be Superbowl '98.

"I'm here to put the pressure on Dave to win the Super Bowl again within five years on the job," Buffone said. "I'm impressed by Dave and his crew. They are on the right track."

"The most important thing to do is have a plan," said Wannstedt. "We knew when I got here it would take turn over the team to get back to the championship game."

The coach pointed to several stats which show the team is headed for success.

"The Bears have been playing football for 76 years and this year our rookie running back rushed for 1,000 yards for the first time since 1936," Wannstedt said. "For the second year in a row we were the least penalized team in the NFL. We are doing so many good things and we know what we need. We need to get a few good free agent players this spring and build on our foundation."

Wannstedt says the 1995 Bears had only three starters that were on the team when he began coaching Jerry Fontenot, Mark Carrier and Donelle Woolford.

The coach is putting a lot of stock into his young players including the rookie record-setting Rashad Salaam and the not-so-stellar rookie Todd Sauerbrun.

"Well, maybe I was 50/50 on that one," Wannstedt chuckled. "Fifty-fifty makes you 9-7, I guess."

Passing game not just a passing fancy

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

The slam dunk, the dominating rebound or the three-pointer may justly receive attention at most basketball games.

But is the skill of passing which often sets up those more spectacular plays — a skill which separates the average from above-average and great teams.

"Passing gets overlooked, but it is an important skill," Warren High Coach Chuck Rasmey said. "We do passing drills every day in practice."

The North Suburban Conference leaders have a trio of assist men. Andy Tryba, Don Hirschfeld and Maurice Foster all have shown ability to set up teammates.

Hirschfeld and Foster combined for 13 assists in a key 61-48 win over Libertyville.

Antioch Coach Jeff Dresser equally believes in the art of passing.

"Eric Campbell is our leader in assists and Kevin Geraghty and Justin McRae have all done well in passing. The key is seeing the floor," Dresser said.

MHS teacher to run with Olympic Flame

TINA L. SWIECH

Staff Reporter

Eric Suender's dream has come true.

When he was a little boy, he used to tell his Mom about his desires to be an Olympic Torchbearer; now she'll be in the audience when he runs by proudly holding up the burning beacon.

Suender, 28, is an Island Lake resident and Mundelein High School science teacher. Originally from Schaumburg, he moved to Peoria after receiving a scholarship to attend Bradley University. He has lived in Island Lake since last summer.

He said he's been in training all his life for the special moment which will take place June 3 in Chicago.

The teacher met all the criteria to become a 1996 Olympic Torchbearer which includes outstanding volunteer work, work as a community leader or role model, acts of generosity or kindness, and extraordinary feats or accomplishments.

Among his accomplishments and volunteer work is his leadership development and role as camp counselor for the YMCA. An Eagle Scout, Suender was a longtime Boy Scout leader, and has also been involved with the Big Brother/Big Sisters program in Peoria.

In 1985 Suender became the state champion in cross country and track which earned him a college scholarship. At Bradley he achieved a bachelor's degree in pre-medicine and secondary education.

Up until last week, Suender had no idea he was about to expand his daily 25 mile a day training runs.

He found out after eating lunch with his wife, Michelle, who told him she had something very important to tell him.

Eric Suender

"I thought she was going to tell me she was pregnant!" said Suender.

Since the couple isn't planning on having children for a while, he was glad when she handed him an envelope instead.

In it were the congratulatory words that he had been accepted as torchbearer, partially because of a 100 word essay his wife sent in.

"I don't know what was in the essay," he quipped.

These days Suender is getting ready by running a lot more than his usual 25 miles per day, he said.

His class is thrilled that their teacher will be representing one of the biggest events in history. Suender has been selected as one of 5,500 individuals to carry the Olympic Flame over more than 15,000 miles through 42 states and 29 capitols.

It is deemed as the largest yet, and the longest event ever as well as the most culturally diverse.

Runners, bicyclists, horseback riders, and those on boats, planes and trains will be participating.

Suender explains says he will be able to influence his class through this positive experience. "It really shows them that if they help people out, something good might happen to them."

Races winners join Spangler in search for Olympic gold

Perhaps the decisions were made at the start of the Lake County Races in Zion.

Or perhaps while bolting past the opposition running along Sheridan Road.

The next stop for one of the runners will be Atlanta. Jenny Spangler was one of the Lake County Races winners who were well represented at the U.S. Women's Olympic Trials in Columbia, South Carolina.

Spangler, of Gurnee, stole the show by winning the event in 2 hours, 29 minutes and 54 seconds. She qualifies for this summer's Olympic Games in Atlanta.

Previous Lake County Races runners seeking one of three spots on the Olympic team included:

Ann Schaeffers of Downers Grove, who finished 27th; Jane Murphy of Oak Park, a former Lake County marathon winner; Wileen Gaufman, Bridget Collins of Lisle, a two-time half-marathon champ at Lake County;

Charlene Soby, the oldest runner in the trials; Jeanette Salazar-Ohst, a 10K Races winner and Lisa Chipman.

"This year was fairly unusual to have so many Illinois women running. A lot train together and have supportive working conditions," Gretchen Berckaw, race director of Lake County Races, said.

Berckaw said Spangler, of Gurnee, was expected to compete in this year's events April 28.

"But we will understand if she does not," she said.

Spangler, age 32, works for Trustmark, the sponsors of the half marathon.

More than 5,000 runners are expected to race in the upcoming event in late April. Half marathon, marathon and 10K races will be held down the North Shore.

And who knows, the next Jenny Spangler, half marathon winner in 1993 and 1995, may be in that group.

Allstars basketball team takes home silver medals

The Waukegan-Foss Special Recreation Associations All Stars Basketball team competed Sunday, Feb. 4, at the Northeastern Illinois Special Olympics District Basketball Tournament at Deerfield High School in Deerfield. The All Stars, coached by Perry Foster and Sarah Hoover, won the Silver Medal in Division 6, with a 1-1 record for the day.

All Stars Chris Peterson lead all scorers in their first game victory, 56-50 against the Lambs Farm Broncos, with 27 points. Peterson was followed by Miller and Torres as high scorers. Defensive players of the game were Richards, Pitts, Foster, and Rans. Jones, Rohnich, Shofidiya, Kremen, and Copeland also played hard to bring the All Stars team to their first victory.

The All Stars lost a heartbreaking second game against SRARLZ-Round Lake, 40-39. At the end of the third quarter the score was 31-31. Round Lake pulled ahead with seconds left to win 40-39. SRARLZ-Round Lake will now be eligible to compete at the State Illinois Special Olympic Basketball Tournament to be held March 10-11 at ISU in Normal.

The All Stars continue their season with a game this week against Maine-Niles SRA. The team will compete in the Special Recreation Associations of Northern Illinois "B" Division Tournament hosted by WFSRA on Sunday, March 3 at North Chicago High School. Sixteen teams are scheduled to attend the SRANI Tournament.

Smith to bid coaching adieu Wannstedt

From Joe Walls' to Corey Statham to Don Kiesgan and current player Kurt Filieatreault, one aspect has been a constant at the College of Lake County.

Soft-spoken Coach Bruce Smith will be the one directing the show — giving advice and helping players move on to four-year schools.

All that will come to a close next week as the Grayslake school honors Smith. A special ceremony will take place Feb. 20 before the 7 p.m. clash with McHenry.

"Junior college teams play a faster game and press more. High school players are bigger and stronger," Smith said of the differences.

"It is not that he is such a good coach, but he is such a good person and teacher. We will miss him," Gene Hanson, CLC athletic director, said.

Hanson said nearly a dozen applicants have officially applied for the position of CLC's second men's basketball head coach. The recommendation from the physical education committee is expected shortly and the new coach could be named within two weeks.

"Bruce has left his mark on Lancer basketball. From observations alone, it is easy to pick up on the different nuances of the game with the aggressiveness of defense and the strength required," said Don Zeman, CLC's relatively new eight-year women's basketball coach.

Some 400 wins after taking the CLC position after a stint in Indiana, Smith said he is feeling good about the state of the program.

He has left his mark on both players who are completing their junior college career and ones with another year ahead.

"I have learned a lot from Coach Smith," said Kurt Filieatreault, a Grant High graduate and this year's team's lone soph.

"He gets us to work hard - it is a lot of fun and he knows his stuff. We will miss him next year," freshman guard Joel Dangel said.

Pete Ferguson, a frosh from Stevenson, spoke of the adjustment factor from high school.

"At the beginning, it was tough — it is a different game," he said.

CLC's last regional success came in 1988 when the Lancers made the regional final four. They were sectional champs eight years earlier.

Joe Walls has the CLC record for most points in a game, back in that first season of Lancers basketball.

Eddie White and Markus Zackery are one-two in shooting percentage, topping 50 percent in the 1991-93 seasons. Greg Washington set the rebounding standard with 800 in a two-year career.

Greg Green was the team's best free-throw percentage, at 85.5 percent.

Plenty of stats and memories for the Smith household as Smith prepares for his post-CLC years.

Wannstedt also said coaching alone is not the answer. "Any one who watched the Superbowl can tell you that coaching doesn't have much to do with it," he said. "You don't get to the Superbowl or succeed at anything by being lucky. You take advantage of an opportunity."

The coach also said he doesn't believe in embarrassing of reprimanding a player in public.

"When you do that, the next day you still have to go in and get them fired up to play again and rally them to go," said Wannstedt.

Wannstedt believes Bears fans can look for big plays from the Bears this next season.

"We didn't surprise anyone by being where we were last year," said Wannstedt. Big plays will come from Salaam and yes, even, Saubrun, the coach predicts.

"I still believe in him," he said. "Todd will have to step up and do what he has to do but I think he can come back and have a great career."

But the coach says he puts a lot of faith in the young running back Salaam.

"He was the youngest player in the NFL last year," Wannstedt said. "I just talked to him last week and he's raring to go. He wants to know when we are getting started for next year."

The coach gave the crowd a little insight into the personality of Salaam.

"In the last game of the year, when he fumbled on the 20-yard line he came over and looked at me with those big eyes asking what to. I noticed he had on long sleeves so I called the trainer over and had him cut them," Wannstedt said. "It seemed like the answer. Rashad went back out there and then fumbled on the 5-yard line and when he came off the field he had tears steaming down both cheeks. I guess it wasn't the sleeves."

Look for the Bears to pursue Miami Dolphin all-pro player Brian Cox once the free-agent season begins Feb. 16.

"I'd love to see him in a Bears uniform," the coach said. The team will also look to obtain a punter and field goal kicker as well as a tight end. Wannstedt spoke at the Lake County Power Breakfast sponsored by the Lake County Chamber of Commerce.

Kerns, Pope earn seconds at meet

Joe Kerns and Vernon Pope gained second-place finishes as highlights for the College of Lake County's wrestling team's showing at regional meet.

The Lancers ended fourth in the six-team meet at Harper College with 35.5 points.

The two qualified for the national junior college meet at Bismark, North Dakota Feb. 23-24.

Kerns, at 142 pounds, beat a Harper wrestler 5-3 on a reversal before losing to a Lincoln wrestler 17-7 in settling for second place.

"For Joe, he did what he could do now. He should do all right if he develops some conditioning. Joe works better from the down position. He had a nice, slick move against the Harper wrestler," CLC Coach Stan Pasiewicz said of the Grayslake High graduate.

Kerns, a state qualifier his senior year, was 15-8 overall.

Vernon Pope, of Waukegan, came back to wrestling after a three-year layoff. He earned a second-place finish with a 5-3 win over Lincoln at 177 pounds. Pope improved to 7-4 overall.

Chris Haag of Antioch gained a third place at 140 pounds, his second straight third place finish at regional.

"He could not quite put it together. I feel bad for Chris," Pasiewicz said.

Mark Schweiss, a Grant High grad, lost to a Harper wrestler and ended third at 158 pounds.

"He is a very dedicated wrestler. He wrestled ill for the last three weeks," Pasiewicz said of the freshman.

Todd Costa, a Wauconda grad, settled for fourth place at 118 pounds.

"He was overpowered by the three guys he wrestled. They were stronger - but he is the most improved athlete this year. He learned a lot," Pasiewicz said.

Costa finished 6-10 his first season at CLC.

Rich Valkaniet did not place at regionals, but came out to contribute in five meets.

Passing

(now at Northern Illinois) or Shawn Harlan (University of Ill. - Chicago) or Matt Heldemann (University of Illinois), there are skilled guards.

"We are basically a junior team this year. Each area of the game has been developing. Clay Shortall (now injured) was our best passer. We have improved in passing. It is not just the pass, but getting the ball to your teammate in a position he can use it," Johnson said.

Co-Fox Valley Conference leader Lake Zurich has had games which it shot 50 percent and that is commonplace in the era of Jimmy Roberts & Co.

"Matt Lange has been our leader in assists all year (with 135 before this weekend's games). He has really stepped it up and Jim has done well, too," Bears Coach John Zarr said.

Veteran Grant Coach Tom Maple has one of the better passers in the area in Scott Lanners. The senior threatened the school record of 14 assists with 12 in a win over Grayslake.

"He is our best passer and press-breaker. He can see the floor well and has exceptionally quick hands and feet," Maple said.

So as the league races wind down in the next two weeks and March Madness of the post-season tourney begins, fans may do well to watch for that bounce pass, behind the back or yes, the good, solid chest pass.
